"A Hard Place

Long before Colonel Johannes Glenn gave his name to Glens Falls, the Indians of the locality had their own name for this area. They called it Chepontuc, which means "a hard place to get around." The area was difficult to bypass mainly because the Hudson River, at the falls, was nearly impossible to cross.

The Glens Falls area of long ago and the Glens Falls High School of today have one characteristic in common. They are both, in different senses to be sure, "hard to get around." The students who have gone through GFHS have encountered many real obstacles—scholastic, athletic, and social ones, which have frequently tripped up the unwary. So it is with justifiable pride that we, the Class of 1958, can say that we have surmounted these obstacles, although many of us have stubbed our toes in the process. We have achieved a worthwhile success.

On the opposite page you see a squat little Indian who would never survive in the wilderness, and who, therefore, is very happy to live eternally between the pages of The Red and Black. His name is Chepontuc; he is a creation of the Red and Black staff, and he symbolizes the Indians of long ago who overcame their obstacles, just as we have overcome ours. He is a comic representative of success, and as such it is fitting that he should be a part of this book, which endeavors to tell the story of our success during the school year 1957-1958.

— DAVID SPEAR BARBER

to Get Around"

"There are the falls on two sides of us, and the river above and below. If you had daylight, it would be worth the trouble to step up on the height of this rock, and look at the perversity of the water. It falls by no rule at all; sometimes it leaps, sometimes it tumbles; there, it skips; here, it shoots; in one place 'tis white as snow, and in another 'tis green as grass; hereabouts, it pitches into deep hollows that rumble and quake the 'arth; and hereaway, it ripples and sings like a brook, fashioning whirlpools and gullies in the old stone, as if 'twas no harder than trodden clay. The whole design of the river seems disconcerted. First it runs smoothly, as if meaning to go down the descent as things were ordered; then it angles about and faces the shores; nor are there places wanting where it looks backward, as if unwilling to leave the wilderness, to mingle with the salt. . . . And yet what does it amount to! After the water has been suffered to have its will, for a time, like a headstrong man, it is gathered together by the hand that made it, and a few rods below you may see it all, flowing on steadily towards the sea."

— JAMES FENIMORE COOPER

The rather routine course of the academic school year was broken at various intervals by a number of important and enjoyable occurrences. These included dances, Drama Night, the Senior Play, and the various musical programs given by the band, orchestra, and choirs. We will remember these special events mainly for the fun we had at them. But while we were having fun we were also gaining valuable experience and knowledge. We learned the necessity for doing things on time as we labored on Thursday for Friday night's Carrousel Prom. We learned the value of an accurate memory as we faced the footlights on Drama Night. We discovered that "practice makes perfect," or nearly so, while preparing for the Spring Music Festival.

The obstacles we faced, such as faulty memories and stage fright, only made these special events more interesting. And in overcoming these obstacles we experienced another great satisfaction—that of doing a job well. We cannot say whether the experience or the memories of the enjoyment we received from participating in these events will last longer, but we can be sure that neither will be forgotten soon.

Special Events

"The decorations and lighting effects were exceptionally beautiful and reflected great credit to the creative decorative abilities of the students," said the Glens Falls Times of May 5, 1957.

"The imagination and originality of the class was shown in the exquisite and captivating decorations which accented the theme. Red, white, and turquoise made up the color scheme that was used around the throne and in the huge carrousel canopy-tent of streamers which hung from the ceiling with horses at intervals around the room," said the Post Star of May 5, 1957.

These were only some of the complimentary remarks we received on the Prom decor.

"Better fasten that securely," says Paul Parsons, helping the ceiling committee.

Taking an intermission break, Prom trotters enjoy cookies and punch at the P.T.A. party in the cafeteria.

The traditional grand march, led by the Juniors, preceded the climax of the evening, the announcement of the new queen's identity.

Carrousel

Our corner co-chairmen included Glenn Rogers, David Schlesinger, Jack Van Garderen, Donald Geroux, Bud Taylor, James Minnick, David Barber, Margaret Park, Joy McMore, Lee Worster, Nancy Williams, Linda Beals, Kay Wright, Ellen Kenney, Betty Wolf, and Muriel St. John.

Happy couples danced under gayly colored streamers. Sparkling horses on peppermint striped poles around the circle enclosed us inside our own Carrousel. Outside, there was a balloon-man and an organ grinder along with his monkey to help complete the park theme.

Helen Shaw, last year's queen, crowned Scotty as we all crushed forward for a glimpse of the new queen. She was attended by flower girl, Kathy Robertson and crownbearer, Stephen Brown. Over 400 people viewed the coronation from the balconies, and 175 couples attended the dance.

Complete with checked tablecloths and pert can-can girls, the Cafe de la Paix offered tired dancing feet a moment of relaxation. After the dance, buses carried everyone to the P.T.A. sponsored party at the Top O'World.

Pretty glass slippers and new white bucks adorn our feet at the Prom.

The ambitious, successful co-chairmen of the decorations were Mary Kelligrew and Dick LaPoint.

Glittering Roman numerals hung from a canopy of streamers.

Midnight Ball

THE EVENING FLEW by as we danced to the music of Bernie Collins and his orchestra.

Co-Chairmen of our Senior Ball were Nancy Williams and Peter Keene.

"Gosh! These cookies and punch are good!" This remark seemed the consensus of opinion at the P.T.A. Intermission Party.

"Mr. Collins, I know it's a day early, but could you please play 'Auld Lang Syne' at twelve o'clock?"

Adding the confetti and the Pepsi-Cola sign completes our own version of New Year's Eve in Times Square.

Couples dance around and around our clock for four happy hours.

Senior Ball chaperones sit in comfortable chairs, discussing many subjects or venturing to dance to a fox-trot or waltz.

Time for a fast number! Shoes off, one couple rock-and-rolls as others look enviously on.

Still enthusiastic at one A.M., students board the bus for the P.T.A. "after the ball" party.

Engaged in a tete-a-tete, this dreamy couple could be discussing the seniors' striking decor.

Steady! Hands willingly hold a shaky ladder as the last golden snowflake is secured.

What pearls of wisdom has George dropped to cause such expressions of consternation?

Enthusiastic sophomores work on the entrance decorations for their Hop.

"Candyland" was the theme of our Soph Hop, the first big dance of the year. Under decorations of lolly-pops, candy canes, gum drops, and gingerbread men, sophomores and upperclassmen danced until 12 o'clock.

Highlighting a pleasant evening was the intermission party at which the dancers were guests of the P.T.A.

At 12 o'clock, souvenirs of decorations were taken home by the dancers as pleasant reminders of a happy occasion.

The big crowd at the Sophomore Hop dances under an array of candy, ice cream, and gingerbread men.

Making like sardines, part of the crowd at the Spinster Swing step around the floor.

Spinster Swing

A record number of brave girls brought an equal number of boys to the most successful Spinster in the Hi-Y's history. A total of 738 dancers, plus chaperones and Steve Gitto's orchestra, attended the affair. The decorations were built on the theme, "Around the World in Eighty Days," and were acclaimed to be very beautiful. The evening was climaxed by the tearing down of the decorations.

At the start of a wonderful evening, couples file into the building.

Hardworking Hi-Y girls and helpers labor strenuously to complete decorating the gym.

Drama Night

As Ronny Baker is being "wooed" by the city girls, Barbara Sears looks on.

John Whitney and Daveen Hansen are secretly plotting.

Stewart Carter and Patty Winchell dance and sing to the title song, "No, No, A Million Times, No."

"The Dancers" by Horton Foote was presented by the following Juniors and Seniors: Mary Ann Woodbury, Cynthia Adams, Margaret Park, Helene Shulman, Robert Dingman, Sherwood Cornell, Nancy Wright, Joan Champagne, Donald Webster, Joyce Landau.

The Octet accompanied by Maurice Whitney, presented "No Man is an Island" by Whitney and Kramer and "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" by Harry Simeone.

Don Webster and Bob Sagan have a difference of opinion as actors in THE MARRIAGE PROPOSAL by Chekhov.

Lois Wood, leading lady in Chekhov's THE MARRIAGE PROPOSAL, seems to have trouble on her hands. Bob Sagan is the possible corpse.

Specialty Acts

Deane Cappello rehearses his magic act.

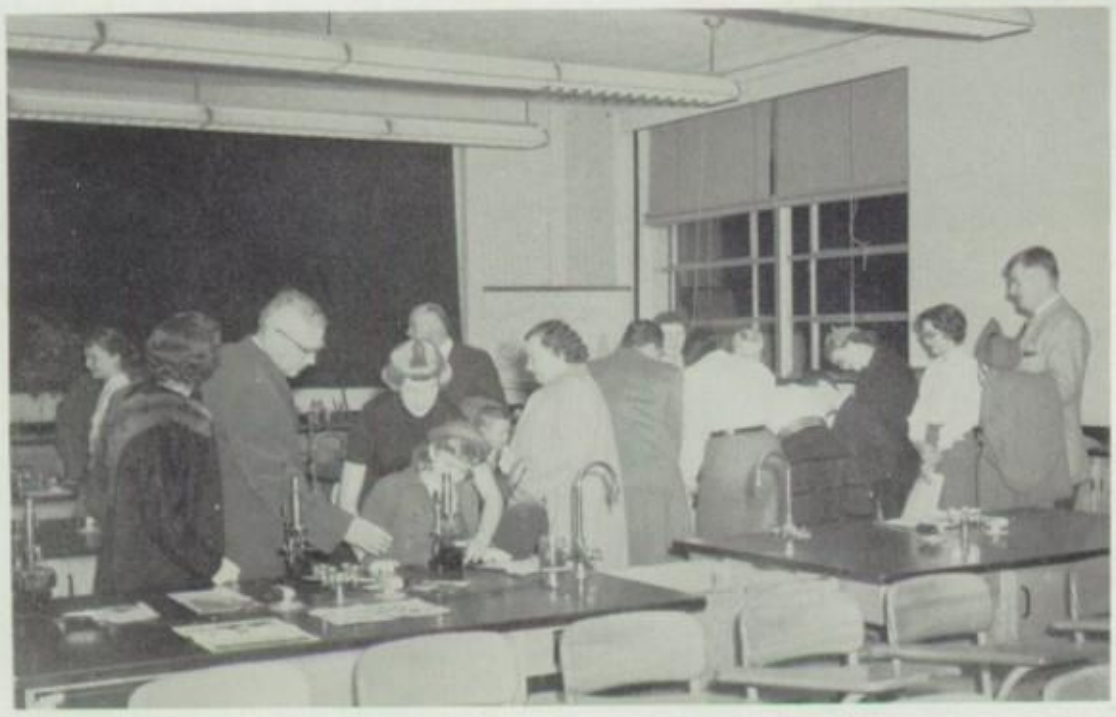
Graceful exhibitions of dancing are given by Laura Tripp and Joan Champagne.

The melodious octet members are Darlene LaRose, Cynthia Seeber, Beth Davis, Margaret Park, Bill Carpenter, Jim Minnick, Dave Granger, John Lemery, and Bill Remington.

Scotsman Gerry Cashion plays on the bagpipes.

Mrs. Burke meets Chuck Rosoff's parents at Patrons' Evening and gives them an explanation of the activities of her English II class.



Visitors try out a microscope and inspect projects in a science room during Patrons' Evening.

Patrons' Evening

Patrons' Evening, a long-standing tradition in Glens Falls High School, is an annual event which gives parents and other interested adults an opportunity to become familiar with the work of the school.

After a brief program of music or drama, visitors tour the building to meet teachers, inspect equipment, and see projects and demonstrations.

Visiting parents enjoy refreshments in the Home Economics Apartment during Patrons' Evening.

Mr. Muse and parents discuss the intricacies of physics during Patrons' Evening.

"Good heavens, Emmie, must you be so clumsy."

"Yes, I took them. Sometimes I don't know why I do these things."

Student director, Bill Carpenter, listens attentively as Pat Scarpellino, Walda Nisoff, and Pearl Sellingham rehearse their lines.

"All right, those in favor of continuing the Vidge—signify."

"The Young and Fair," a suspenseful three-act play by N. Richard Nash, was presented on March 21 and 22. The all-girl play was immensely successful. It takes place in a girls' junior college, and centers around the conflicts resulting when teachers and students are tempted to put personal gain ahead of truth and ideals.

Heading the cast were Joy Ginsburg, an English teacher; Darlene LaRose, school dean; Linda Hayes and Pat Scarpellino, freshmen; Pearl Sellingham, a kleptomaniac; Waldo Nisoff, a wealthy and domineering senior girl; Barbara Levenson, the dean's sister; and Barbara Myers, a maid.

The stage manager was David Granger, and the student director was William Carpenter. The play was under the general direction of Miss Marianna Loosemore.

"Let me see now—good taste—"

"Excellent training indicated by band members in concert at senior high school auditorium" was the praise given to the concert band following their annual concert on February 26, 1958. The article in the Glens Falls Times continued by congratulating their conductor, Stanley Gericke, on the fine program and the professional quality of the band. Mentioned also were the featured trumpet soloists, Geoffrey Brennan, James Henry, and Eric Hungerford. Other appearances they made this year were at Junior High School, Big Cross Street School, and the spring contest.

Officers of the band are Mr. Gericke, director; Judy Eddy, manager; Judy Streeter, assistant manager; Don Clark, quartermaster; Laura Tripp, librarian; and Sue Gillan, historian.

This year, the Senior High Choir was much larger, for it reverted from an all-girls' choir to a mixed choir. The choir has performed on Patrons' Evening, at the Choir-Orchestra Concert, and at the Balston Spa Competition Festival.

The repertoire included a song dedicated to the Senior Choir by Walter Ehert, "King Jesus Is A-Listenin'," two Russian tunes, "Russian Picnic" and "Carol of the Russian Children," "Gloria In Excelsis Deo" by Maurice Whitney, "Soon Ah Will Be Done" by William L. Dawson, "Cherubim Song" by M. Glinka, and a southern mountain song, "He's Gone Away."

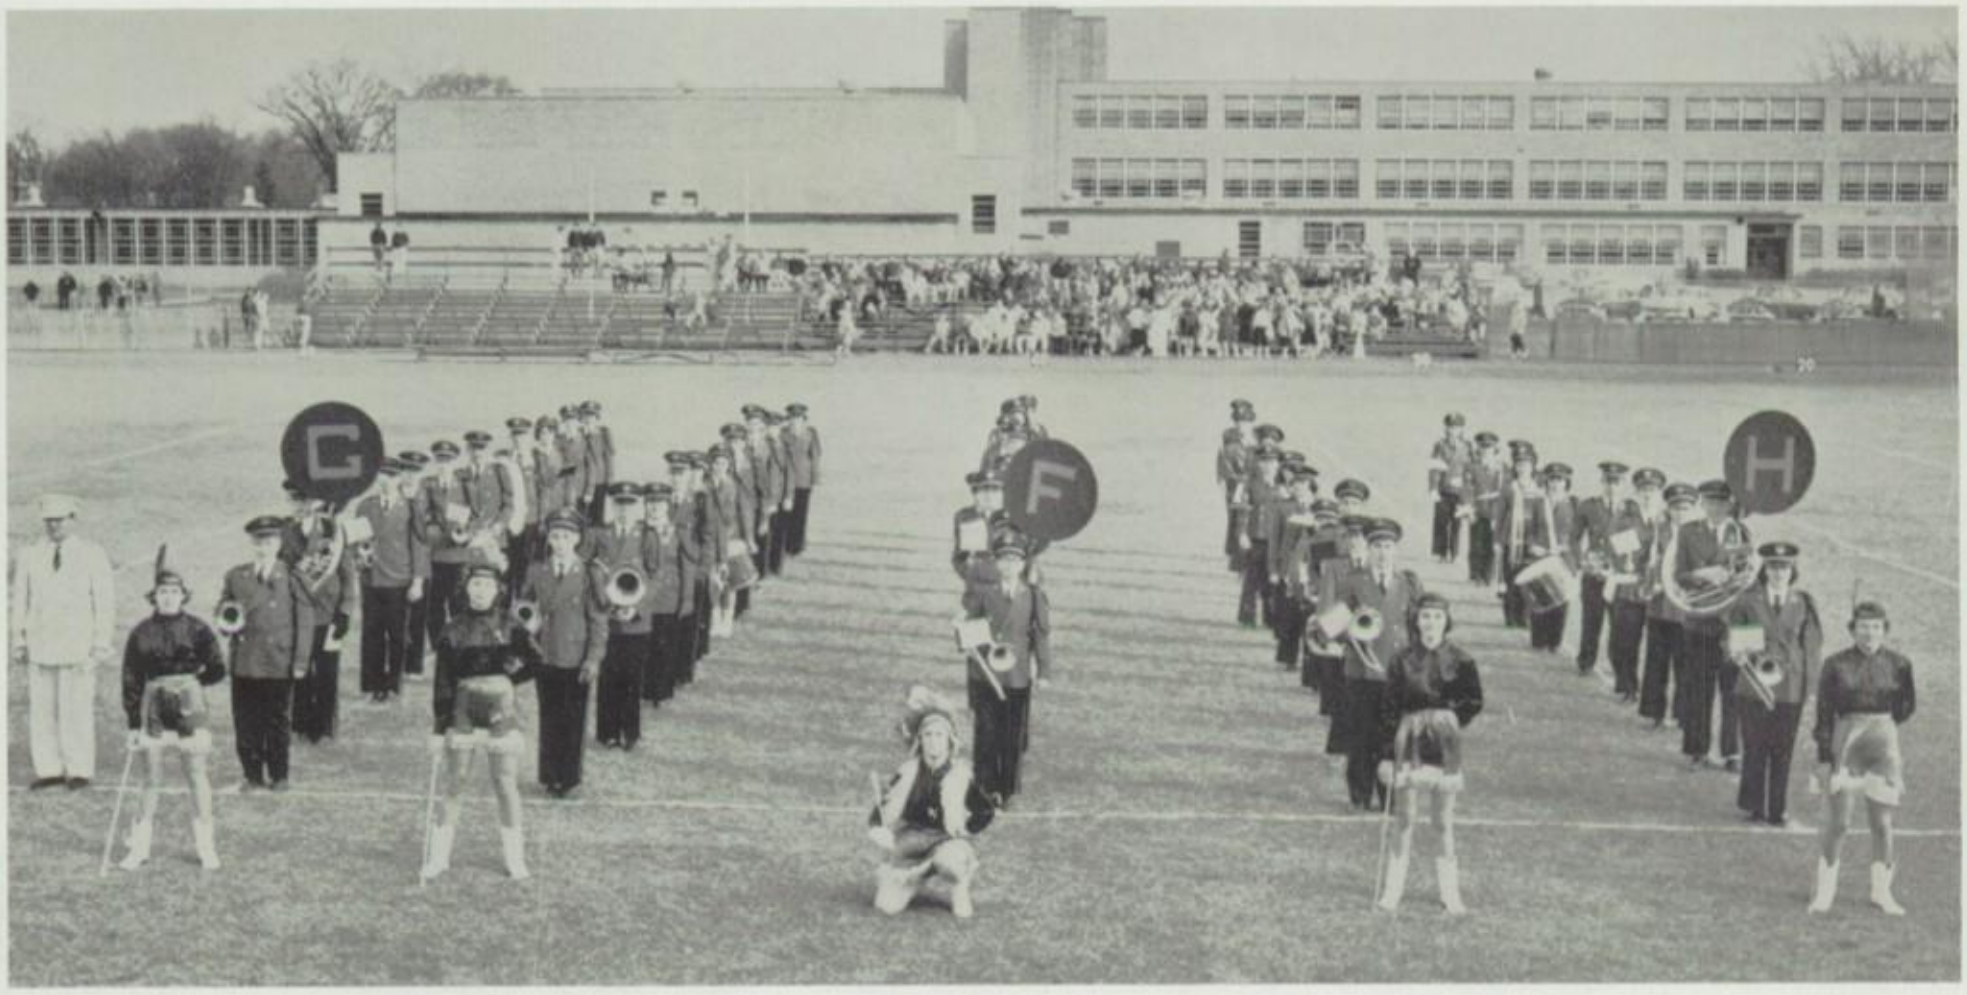
Marching Band



Ready to lead the enthusiastic Indian rooters is our Marching Band. Pictured on the field are the fifty members, including Norman and Phil Ackerman, Betty Beaman, Michael Bedesem, Bill Benson, Doug Bloomfield, Geoff Brennan, Stuart Carter, Joan Champagne, Don Clark, Barbara Clatworthy, Steve Cohen, Jean Cotter, Joe Drew, Judy Eddy, Joel Grossman, Carolyn Hanna, Jim Henry, Jean Howland, Ricky Hungerford, Lester Jacobs, Joan Kokoletsos, Phil Lange, Steve Leeret, Holly Lester, Barbara Levenson, Debbie Liddle, Ed Lindstrand, Margaret Lyman, Meredith Mock, Helen-Marie Moynihan, Gene Nathan, Jim Nesbitt, Pete Osterhoudt, Bill Perry, Sandra Lee Phillips, Gary Quick, Charles Rosoff, Rochelle Saidel, Helene Shulman, Pat Selleck, Carole Singer, Judy Streeter, Martin Swirsky, Laura Tripp, Susan Unger, Pete Van Dyke, Anne Warren, John Whitney, and Mary Ann Woodbury.

Center of attraction at half-time of the football games was the Glens Falls Marching Band, conducted by Mr. Stanley Gericke. The band also appeared at the Halloween parade and the Decoration Day parade.

The band will long be remembered for its leading of our musical cheers and for its playing of the Indian Fight Song, Cheer For Your High School, and our Alma Mater.

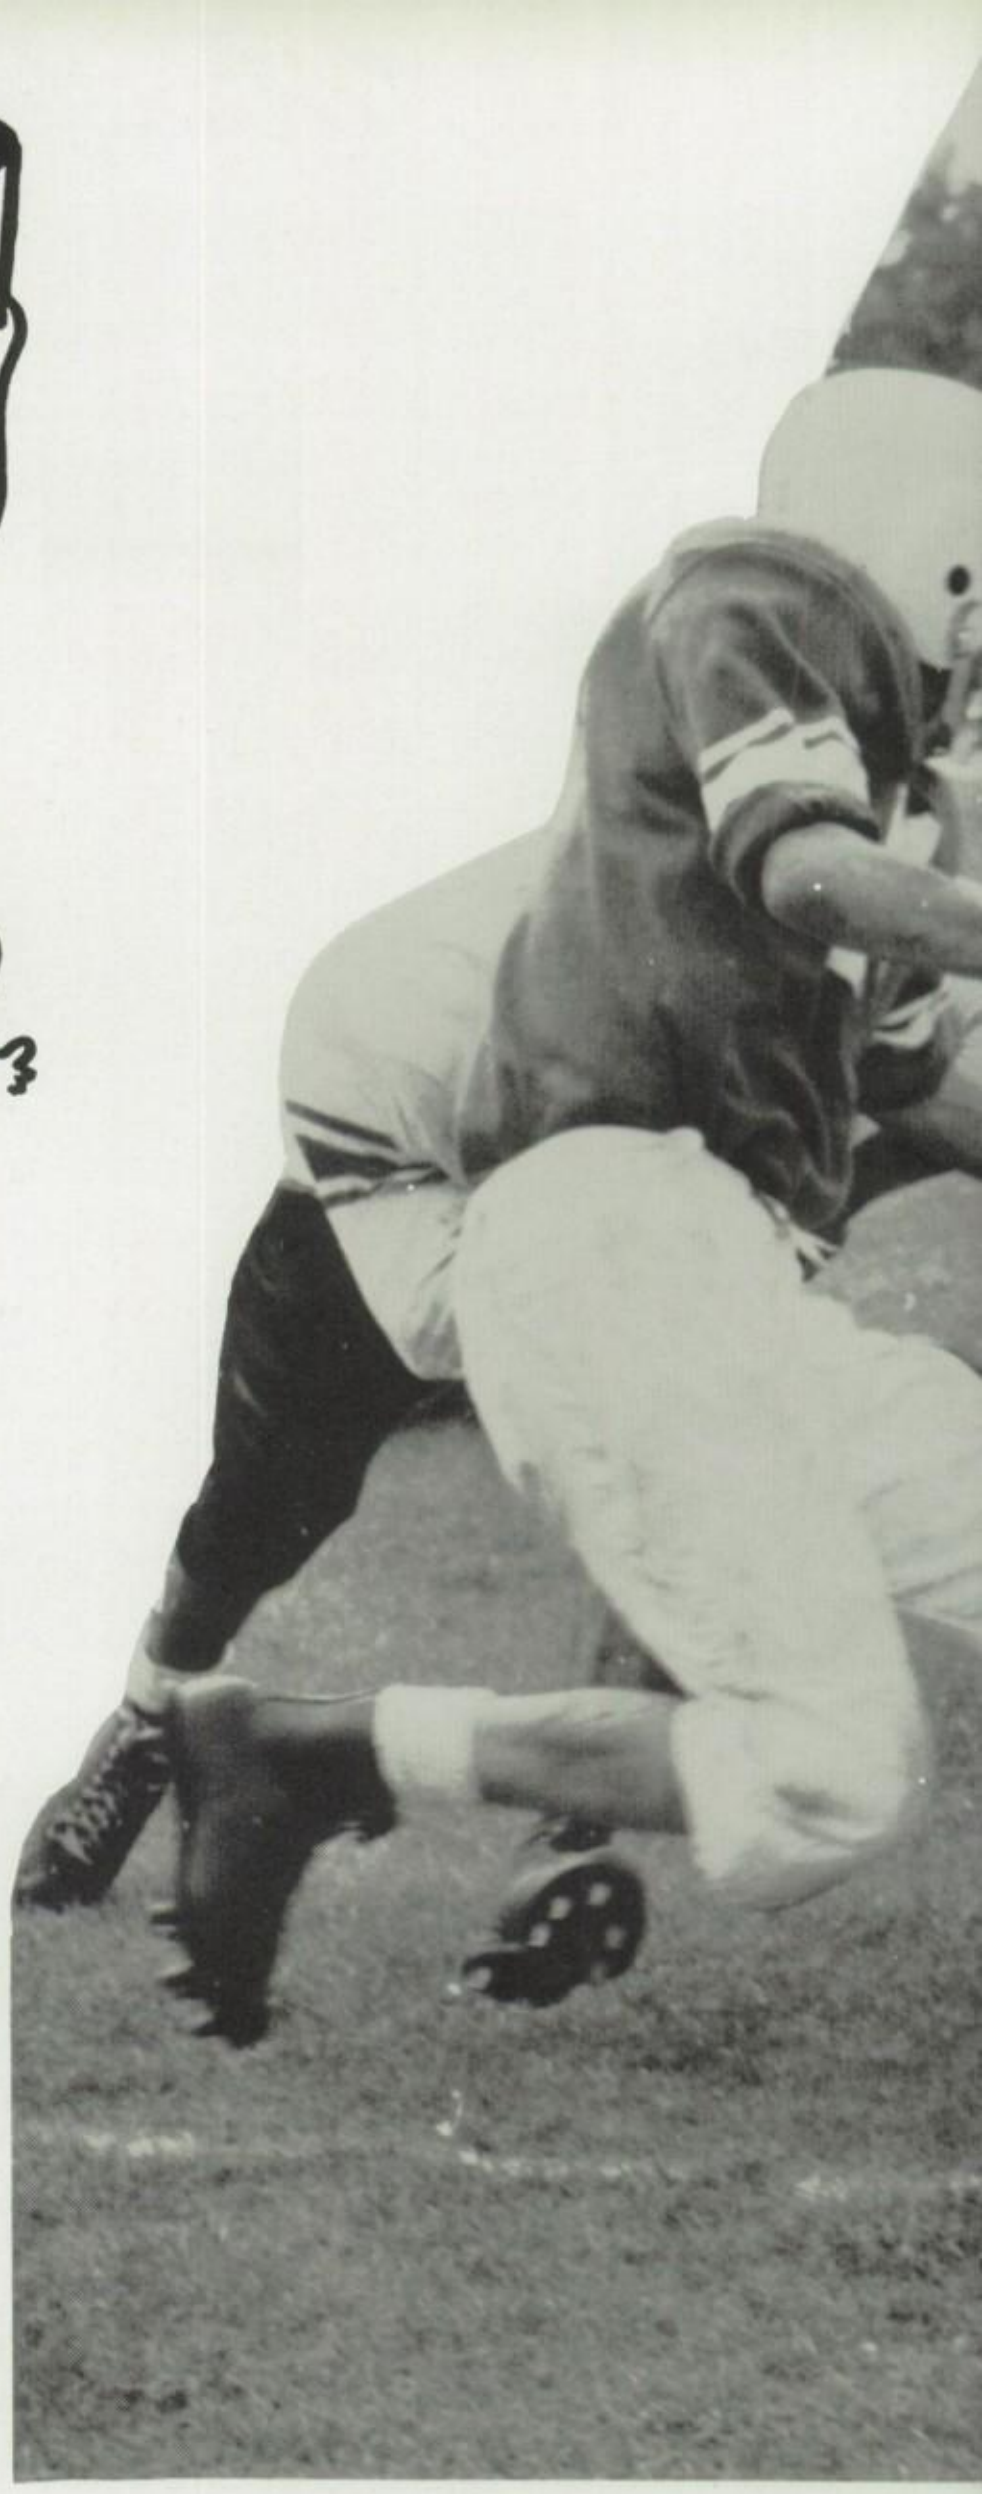
Nowhere in high school life are obstacles more real and evident than in athletics. For a basketball player, the obstacle is the man guarding him; for the pole vaulter it is a bar, high off the ground. This year was an excellent one for Glens Falls, athletically, as our teams overcame their obstacles right and left. We had good individual athletes and also good teams. Our teams usually finished at the top of the Northern Conference, and gave non-league foes, such as Nott Terrace, Mont Pleasant, Gloversville, and Amsterdam, a hard battle.

The vigorous support for our teams, especially by the student body, contributed greatly to their success. In victory, which was the rule, and in defeat, which was the exception, Glens Falls fans were behind their players, and because the athletes knew it, they were spurred on to greater achievements.

In reading this sports section, players and fans alike will be able to recall the many exciting moments of this year—the elation as our football team pulled away from St. Mary's in the second half, the anxiety late in the last quarter as our hoopsters failed to overtake Amsterdam, and other thrilling moments. This was truly a memorable year in sports.



Athletics

Football

Coach Putt La May advises quarterback Al Read during the crucial St. Mary's game, while offensive standouts Bill Burnell and Al Wilsey watch the battle. Nearly 4,000 fans watched the Indians crush the Kerries 33-7.

Tony Gorry carries during the St. Mary's game, as Al Read and Al Wilsey are about to assist with blocks.

It's the opening kickoff of the St. Mary's game, played in very cold autumn weather. Tom Scull, on the far right of the picture, returns the ball about to the Indians' 35 yard line.

A devastating offense combined with a rock-ribbed defense to carry the Indian football eleven to its second undefeated season in three years.

In the opener, quarterback Al Read employed the hard-running backs, Tom Scull, Tony Gorry, and Bill Burnell to full advantage, as Glens Falls ground out a 24-0 victory over Fort Edward. The next week the Indians overcame South High, 33-7. This time it was Read's pinpoint passing supplementing the plunges of Burnell and the end skirts of Gorry and Scull. On the following Saturday, the defensive unit contained Whitehall's heralded single wing backfield with such success that the Maroon fell, 10-0. Hudson Falls became our fourth victim, absorbing a 32-0 loss.

While these early games were won in convincing fashion, peak performances were not attained until the final two contests. It was then that Coach Putt LaMay's club crushed Colonie 52-13 in a non-league game. The first two Indian squads opened up a 39-0 halftime lead against the Capital District foe. At this point the remaining substitutes took over and played Colonie to a second half standoff. Instrumental in the rout were defensive standouts Gene Alkes, Crosby Camp, and Ed Prescott. Burnell, Jack Van Garderen, converted defensive wing back, and Roy Simpkins led the attack.

Will he get away? It doesn't appear too likely, as Al is being pounced upon by three St. Mary's defenders. This sort of thing did not happen very often, for Read piloted the Indians to one of their best seasons.

The Northern Conference championship was taken with a second half outburst which stunned crosstown rival St. Mary's, 33-7. The score was 7-7 at the half, with Tony Gorry plunging for the Glens Falls touchdown. Two third period drives culminated in two more GF scores. Later, interceptions by Ed Prescott, an amazing pass defender throughout the season, led to the clinching seven-pointers, both on passes from Al Read to end Al Wilsey. The inspired second half play was sparked by the great all-around performance of Tom Scull, the fine defensive showing of Bud Taylor and Vic Miner, and sparkling offensive work by Read, Gorry, and Wilsey.

Hard workouts on the practice field under the guidance of coaches La May, Backer, and Davenport prepare Glens Falls for battle.

Al Wilsey and Tony Gorry maneuver into rebounding position during the St. Mary's game, as Pete Brown and Dick Derby move in to assist in case the ball eludes Al or Tony. One of the main factors in Glens Falls' successful season was the rebounding strength afforded by Gorry, Derby, Brown, and Wilsey, while Tom Scull set the plays up from the outside. Another Indian forte was the fast break, made effective by Glens Falls' rebounding power and pass stealing, notably by Scull.

Attaining an unprecedented undefeated Northern Conference season, Glens Falls High School took conference and City Series crowns in a convincing manner.

The only losses were suffered at the hands of the Class "A" schools, Amsterdam, Nott Terrace, and Mont Pleasant. The Indians gained a measure of revenge against Mont Pleasant, the Class "A" champions, in one of the outstanding contests ever seen in local sports. This upset was truly a team effort, as four GF regulars netted over ten points in our 57-53 victory. This game seemed to provide the needed impetus as we rattled off seven triumphs in our next nine contests. Included in this streak was a decisive 80-37 victory over Whitehall, which clinched the league championship.

Seven seniors, consisting of four regulars and three substitutes, played for the 1957-1958 Indians. Pivot man Tony Gorry gave us invaluable rebounding strength and was our most effective scorer against the class "A" schools. His season high was 25 points against the Whitehall Maroon. extremely impressive on defense, making several brilliant steals in the two games with St. Mary's. Tom's most productive night came against Nott Terrace when he hooped 18 in a four point loss. Al Wilsey, who netted 20 against St. Mary's, was a strong rebounder and scorer in close. Pete Brown, who operated from the corner, was a steady scorer. Pete had a high of 13 against Mont Pleasant. The remaining seniors, Glen Rogers, Dick Cantz, and Andy Scarpellino, gave us the needed scoring power in the final quarters.

Sophomore Dick Derby demonstrated versatility by playing outside or inside and ended the season as our top pointmaker. Dick, who has already scored over 500 points in two seasons, dropped in 27 in the first St. Mary's game.

As this yearbook went to press, we were anxiously awaiting the sectional tournament. We knew that the first Glens Falls team to go through the conference season undefeated would represent our school well.

Go ahead, Al! Al Wilsey goes up for what looks like an easy two points. Tom Scull and Pete Brown aren't so sure, though, so they race up court to give rebounding help.

The Glens Falls cindermen, with a large number of juniors and sophomores, made Ray Brown's first year as head track coach a good one. With the aid of assistant coaches George Muse and Ben Davenport, Coach Brown developed a group of young and inexperienced track men into a powerful team. Especially outstanding for the Indians were Captain Fred Schwab in the mile run, Don Geroux in the 440, Peter Brown, who was elected captain of the next year's squad, and Glen Jeckel in the sprints, Ted Lemery and Jack VanGarderen in the low hurdles, and freshman Erwin Kantrowitz in the broad jump.

Led by veterans Dick Winchell and Dave Barber, the Indian runners defeated a total of nine other teams and lost to 11. Captain Winchell, possessing a short but terrifically fast stride, generally led the Indians over the grueling 2.5 mile distance. Dave Barber usually came in second for Glens Falls, and occasionally beat Winchell. Other notable Indian harriers were Gary Prevost, a sophomore, and seniors Dave Schlesinger and Bill Remington.

The 1957 Indian Baseball team, though lacking a .300 hitter, managed to win seven of their seventeen games. These victories resulted mainly from the fine pitching of Tony Gorry and Gary Prevost. In spite of a 2-5 record, Gorry made several fine relief performances. His earned run average was a remarkable 0.93 runs per game. Prevost had the most wins, three, and compiled a brilliant 0.88 E.R.A. Catcher Al Read led the hitters with a .280 batting average. Harold Kirkpatrick topped the homerun hitters with two. First baseman Glenn Rogers was the outstanding fielder, making only two errors in 93 chances.

The 1957 season also provided many unusual moments. For instance, in the opener of a doubleheader with Mont Pleasant, Glens Falls hammered out ten hits but lost 4-1 in 12 innings. A 2-1 victory had been in sight when three straight Tribe batters hit safely in the tenth inning. Victory hope quickly vanished, as two of the runners passed each other and were declared out. The Indians got only one hit in the second game: yet, they won 7-3.

Boys' Intramural Champions

After dropping an early season game to room 102, 17-8, Brown's Bombers (218) went on to take their last six contests for the Boys' Intramural Basketball Championship with an 8-1 record. In the championship game, the playmaking of Al Read and Ed Prescott and the scoring of Bill Remington and Dave Nathan proved too much for room 135 and 218 won, 30-17. The leading 218 scorers in the three playoff games were Dave Nathan, who netted 20 points, and Bill Remington, who poured through 16. First row: Bill "Teamwork" Remington, Ed Prescott, Al "Quarterback" Read, and Joe "Lefty" Penor. Second row: Bill Sagan, Dave "Frog" Nathan, and Coach Ray Brown.

Golf — 1957

The first year of golf brought unexpected success to the Indian squad which compiled a highly creditable 4-1 record. Included among the victories were two triumphs over the St. Mary's five. Four of the varsity competitors, John Dorlan, Dave Nathan, Charles Pryce, and Roger Hewlett captured four of their five starts. Ken Hertz completed the five man group which held its home matches at the Glens Falls Country Club. Twice a week the varsity and three other squad members, Dean Collamer, Alva Collamer and Bob Sagan practiced under the tutelage of Coach Putt La May.

Varsity Cheerleaders

A well known group in this school is the Varsity cheering squad. These girls with their pert and original black jumpers exhibit boundless enthusiasm at pep rallies and games. A round of well-deserved applause should go to the squad for the time and effort spent to bolster team spirit and to increase good sportsmanship at games.

This year the cheerleaders sold "Indian" stickers to start a fund for an electric scoreboard. The Cheerleaders' Dance was another example of the work these girls accomplished.

None can forget this group who has played such a prominent part in sports activities.

"Score, Team, Score!!" yell the cheering squads as they lead the spectators in a cheer at the St. Mary's game.

A notable fact about clubs is that a member can have fun and still learn something. This is especially true in organizations like French Club and German Club, but it is also true in varying degrees in every organization represented in this club section. Dramatics Club members learn how to act and present plays. Those in the Outing Club learn about the great outdoors. Student Councilors discover the problems of government. The Varsity "G" Club exposes its senior members to the cultural facilities of New York City. Besides their educational merit, clubs and organizations are also valuable in enabling school students to get to know each other by working and playing together.

Clubs offer many obstructions for their members. One obstacle annually confronting Outing Club members is Mount Marcy. The Hi-Y is troubled with exuberant Spinster Swingers who want to take dance decorations. The Library Club battles the intricacies of the Dewey Decimal System. It is sometimes an inconvenience to have to overcome these hindrances, but more often it is fun. That is why clubs are so popular at Glens Falls High School.

Mr. Newcomb seems to be groaning as the planning board poses before launching into another lengthy discussion over a small but important detail concerning the Red and Black. The job of getting the yearbook ready for printing took six long months, and Mr. Newcomb had ample cause to groan as a myriad of problems arose during that time. The planning board first gathered ideas and formed the plan of the book, and then drew the layouts for the pages. The board consisted of Dave Nathan, associate editor; Lee Worster, associate editor; Dave Barber, editor-in-chief; Mary Kelligrew, associate editor, who did the artwork, and Mr. Newcomb, advisor.

Red and Black Staff

Photography editor Nancy McIntire and assistant Cynthia Seeber were in charge of the taking and filing of all Red and Black photographs. This is an enormous job, for there are over nine hundred pictures put into the yearbook from more than sixteen hundred pictures taken. The photography editors also assisted the planning board in drafting the book, laying out the pages, and writing out copy for pictures.

Sixteen seniors spent hours after school preparing the individual write-ups in Room 202. Conciseness was paramount, as each sketch was restricted to about 26 words. Every member of the writing staff constructed a word portrayal of ten seniors, taking great pains to make each description as accurate as possible. First row: Dick LaPoint, Sue Canaday, Roanne Cline, Kate Birdsall, Jean Howland, Helen-Marie Moynihan, Dave Schlesinger. Second row: Linda Hayes, Helene Shulman, Lesley Willmott, Judy Varney, Nancy Williams, Nancy DeLong, Virginia Roe, Barbara Levenson.

Writing Staff

Inducted as Juniors*
Inducted in fall of Senior year*

National Honor Society

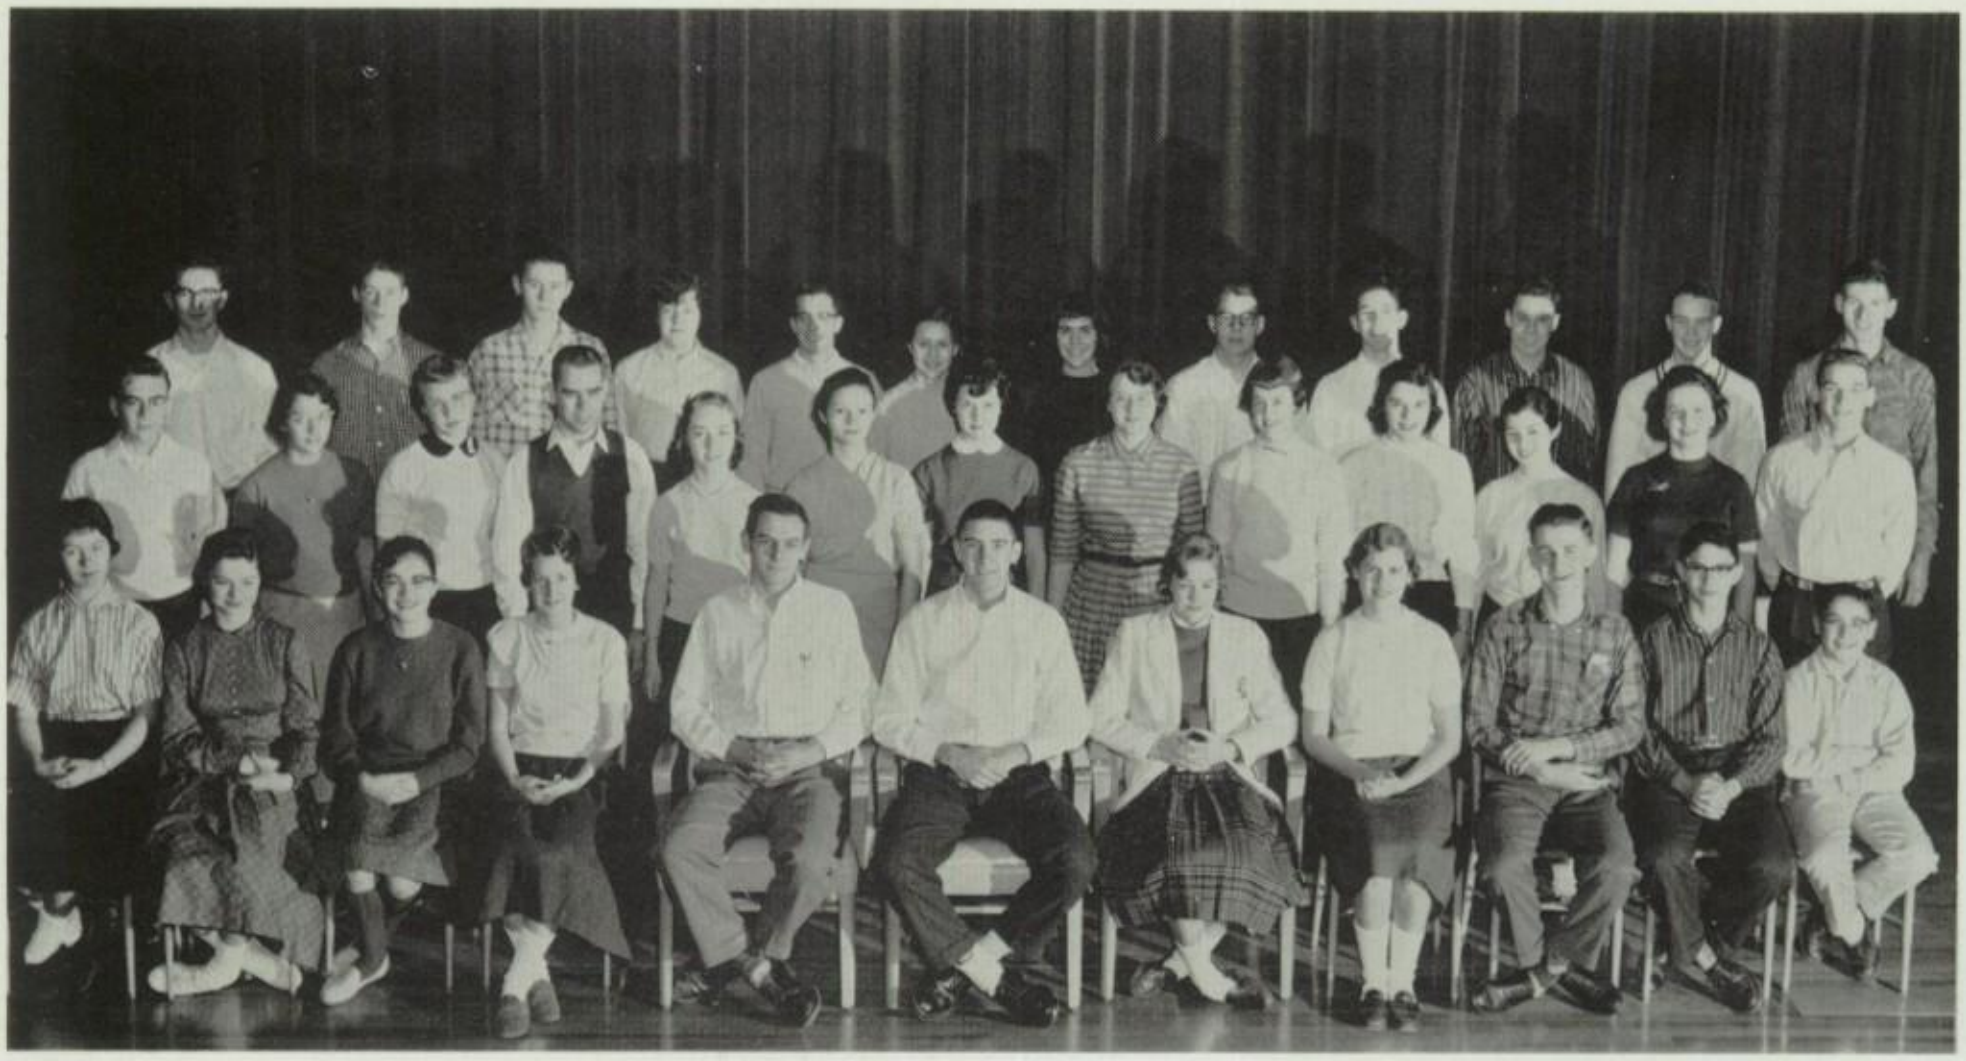
Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors that can be bestowed upon a high school student. There are four qualifications for membership. First, to be inducted in his Junior year, a student must have a scholastic average of 3.7 or better; to be inducted in the fall of one's Senior year, one must have an average of 3.5 or higher; and for membership in the spring of the Senior year, one needs an average of 3.2 or above. The other requirements are service to the school and to the community, qualities of leadership, and worthy traits of character.

The induction ceremony is held twice a year in an impressive candlelight ceremony. The president of the Society conducts the assembly and explains the aims of the club. Then various members of the Honor Society light the candles of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. After this is done, other members go into the audience, tap the new members, and bring them to the stage, where they are presented the two Phi Beta Kappa members of our faculty, Miss Broadbent and Mr. Van Der Voort. The members then take the pledge of the National Honor Society. The assembly closes as the members file out of the auditorium holding lighted candles.

Miss Nola Wentworth is the sponsor of the Honor Society.

The officers of the club direct its activities under the guidance of Miss Nola Wentworth, sponsor. They were all inducted into the honor society in their Junior year. They are Nancy McIntire, secretary; Richard LaPoint, vice president; George Gorry, president; and Edward Prescott, treasurer.

Under the direction of its officers, the club obtained concessions from the hat and coat room at a musical production at the school this year. The proceeds from the concessions went toward new robes for the Society.



The Student Council consists of one boy and one girl from each home room, plus the officers. Student Council

The students' legislature, the Student Council, is the coordinating agency for many of the activities of the school. Modeled after the United States Senate, it consists of two elected representatives—a boy and a girl—from each homeroom. Members of Student Council learn legislative procedure by discussing and deciding important issues of the school and by working on one of these committees: Homeroom, Punctuality, Activity Tickets, Sports, Assembly, Safety, Building and Grounds, and Activities. Busses to basketball games, paid assemblies, and the improvement of the school grounds are provided for by Student Council. The big project of this year was the support of two delegates to the New York Herald Tribune Forum while they visited Glens Falls for two weeks in January.

The Student Council financed part of the expenses of Vivian Solomon and Yilma Taddesse, our visitors from Argentina and Ethiopia, sitting second and fourth from the left, respectively.

A club as active as the Hi-Y needs hardworking officers, and this year's group did a fine job. They are, front row: Mary Ann Woodbury, vice president; Barbara Epstein, president; Lesley Willmott, treasurer. Back row: Miss Hilda Hayes, sponsor; Laura Tripp, secretary; Mary Kelligrew, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Betty Cornell, sponsor.

The decorations for the Spinster Swing, designed on the theme "Around the World in Eighty Days," were acclaimed as being the best in years. These Hi-Y girls are busy making the Ghost Town corner decorations.

Splurgle, splurgle, goes the coke into the cups, and then gulp, gulp, down the parched throats of basketball fans at half time, as they buy refreshments from these vivacious Hi-Y girls.

The crowds at the basketball games appreciate the energetic and courteous Hi-Y girls who sell them coke, candy, and ice cream to support the Scholarship fund. From year to year, members try to exceed the number of scholarships given the year before. This year the goal is to present $100 scholarships to more than 12 deserving senior girls.

To make money, Hi-Y sponsors several dances, including the Sock Hop, Student Mixer, and the ever popular Spinster Swing.

On the other hand, earning money is not Hi-Y's only objective. For instance, at Halloween time, members gave favors to the hospital patients and cookies to the Glens Falls Home at Christmas time.

At the close of each year, the Hi-Y members have a banquet, celebrating another successful year.

G.A.C.

The aim of the Girls' Athletic Club is to encourage participation in after-school sports, including hockey, basketball, volleyball, and baseball, and to promote good sportsmanship. Junior and senior girls who have earned forty points by playing various sports are eligible for membership in the G.A.C. A member receives a G.A.C. letter when she has earned ninety points, and 130 points enables a girl to receive the chenille "G."

In February the G.A.C. sponsored Sports Day, with area schools taking part.

Any boy who has earned a varsity letter in any sport is eligible for membership in the Varsity "G" Club. Members are—First row: John Carusone, Alan Carter, Dave Barber, Pete Keene, Vic Miner, John Missita, Bill Remington, John Bridge, George Goetz, Lou Monsour. Second row: Dave Nathan, Glenn Rogers, Pete Brown, Tony Gorry, Eric Hungerford, Chris Prescott, Jeff Brennan, Ted Lemery, John Lemery, George Missita. Third row: Glen Jeckel, Maynard Alverson, Steve Chagnon, Don Geroux, Mert Mock, Winston Beebe, Gene Alkes, Dick Lennox, Jack Van Garderen, Terry Gates. Fourth row: Irwin Kantrowitz, Charles Pryce, Steve Nathan, Dick Derby, Vic Culver, Joel Nisoff, Andy Scarpellino, Phil Ackerman, Roy Simpkins. Fifth row: Earl Fratus, Bob Salter, Bud Streeter, Bill Burnell, Dave Schlesinger, Dick LaPoint, Ted Heisler, Bill Sagan.

Varsity "G" Club

The Varsity "G" Club endeavors to promote good sportsmanship and friendship between Glens Falls High School players and spectators and those of opponent high schools. The club performs various functions at the nine home basketball games, non-school games played at the Glens Falls gym, and the Glens Falls Invitational Track Meet. These functions include selling programs, ushering, keeping spectators off the gym floor, and checking hats and coats at basketball games, and moving equipment such as hurdles at the annual track meet. The club also sponsors dances after basketball games. In the spring, the senior members go to New York City on a trip financed by the club's earnings.

The officers assume the bulk of the responsibility for running the club. They are Jeff Hallett, secretary; Tom Scull, vice president; Mr. LaMay, advisor; Al Read, president; and Bud Taylor, treasurer.

Outing

It's a tense moment as Ron Baker awaits the pitch. Baseball was one of the activities enjoyed by the Outing Club on its hikes.

Members of the Glens Falls High School Outing Club are interested in hiking, conversation, and the general out of doors. This year the Outing Club is the largest in its eight year history. It has grown from a membership of nineteen in 1950 to become G.F.H.S.'s most popular club with a membership of over 200. This year the club is fortunate to have Alan Cederstrom, a new addition to the school faculty, to assist Mr. Grout as sponsor.

On November 9, we had our first hike of the year, the annual Long Island trip. After a brisk walk around the island, we assembled for a full afternoon of baseball, football, picnicking, and a treasure hunt.

A hike to the Three Ponds Area in West Fort Ann was the club's second exploit. Although the destination of the hike was Sly Pond, the majority of the hikers finished at Katskill Bay on Lake George. The weather could not have been more perfect and the snow-filled trees of this area were a beautiful sight for all. Although many members were quite exhausted after climbing up and down various mountains, everyone agreed that it was a wonderful hike.

A movie on gun safety and a talk on its importance was given by club members at one of our earlier meetings. Short skits were also humorously presented emphasizing 10 rules of safe gun handling.

On December 5, Mrs. Edythe Tarantelli was the guest speaker at the meeting. She spoke on her trip up Alcan Highway and through Alaska during the summer. With her talk, Mrs. Tarantelli showed colorful slides taken on her trip.

A few of the members of the club presented a radio program over WWSC on Saturday, December 7. The program was based on questions usually asked by new students. The ideals, growth and program of the club were discussed.

These are the students who presented a fifteen minute radio program over station WWSC, in which they gave information about the Outing Club.

It is cold on Lake George in the fall, as the overcoats on these Outing Club members indicate, but it is still fun to go speedboating.

This year the Sophomore Dramatics Club, sponsored by John Van Der Voort, selected for its Drama Night play, "No, No, a Million Times No." The musical play, which is the club's major activity, gave everyone an opportunity to display and develop his talents. The activities were rounded out by an annual banquet at the Country Club.

Getting ready to put makeup on the actors in the play "The Dancers," are the club officers. They are George Goetz, Robert Sagan, Barbara Scott, Miss Loosemore, advisor; Mary Ann Woodbury, Alfred Robinson, and Walda Nisoff.

Dramatics Club plays would be impossible without the cooperation of the stage hands. Pushing levers, drawing curtains, and performing all sorts of essential jobs backstage, stage managers Jim Minnick and Rocky Webb help the play to be run off smoothly. Not pictured: LeRoy Akins.

Future actors of the Dramatics Club are—First row: Donna Rozell, Beverly Champagne, Sue Reed, Nancy Wright, Joanne VanDerwarker, Joanne Spector, Joyce Landau, Lois Wood, Jean Cotter. Second row: Bob Shanahan, Priscilla Trimbey, Cynthia Adams, Judy Van Benthuysen, Bob Dingman, Rochelle Saidel, Joel Nisoff, Martin Swirsky, and, in the foreground, stage manager, Rockwell Webb.

Future Homemakers of America

"Personal improvement" was the theme for the year adopted by the Future Homemakers of America. Concerning this theme, the club members held discussions on grooming, clothes, nutrition, and hobbies. Projects of the club included selling stationery and buying Care packages. The F.H.A. members ended the year with a mother-daughter banquet.

These F.H.A. members are working on a phase of their theme, "Personal Improvement." They are Evelyn Nobert, Virginia Roe, Betty Wolfe, Joyce Clark, Miss Bussey, sponsor; Sandy Whitten, Joan Coombs.

Officers of the F.H.A. are Marilyn Harney, Leone Schine, Ruth LaPoint, Loretta Pfizenmayer, and Sandy Schmidt.

Future Teachers of America

Two panel discussions on CHILD PSYCHOLOGY, presented by the fifteen senior and junior girls doing practice teaching in the Glens Falls schools, were among the year's most interesting programs. The students gave their own observations and experiences in helping teachers in Junior High School home economics, Broad Street School music, Jackson Heights School class for the physically handicapped, and the first five grades in Sanford Street School.

Other outstanding programs were: "What the Elementary School Teacher Needs to Know About Art" by Mr. John Gallucci, illustrated with a color film and many art activities for young children; "Teaching the Mentally Retarded" by Mrs. Sidney Van Dusen, who stressed the great opportunities and need for teachers in this field; and "Music in the Grades" by Miss Mildred Ford, who illustrated her talk with short piano selections.

The climax of the year for the seniors and juniors was a trip to Plattsburgh State Teachers College on April 3 for a "College For a Day" program.

The Robert S. Buddy Chapter of the F.T.A. was greatly honored by the "School Bell" in its spring issue. Its page one feature article was devoted to the activities of the club, with classroom pictures showing some of the club members engaged in their practice teaching.

By chartering their club in the name of the late Robert S. Buddy, the club wished to perpetuate the memory of a man who was an outstanding leader in educational and humanitarian service in the community for many years. Mr. Buddy was a member of the Board of Education for 20 years. First row, left to right: Susan Gillan, Donna Rozell, Barbara Clatworthy, Karen Mazer, Carole Potter. Second row: Betty Helm, Mary Ann Woodbury, Joy Ginsburg, Roanne Cline, Susan Unger, Carole Singer, Patricia Wiswall. Third row: Carol True, Judy Streeter, Ann Tupper, Judy Joubert, Harriet Hillman, Martha Leon, Gretchen Steenburgh, Barbara Greenhill, Ann Kendall, Margo Judson.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais enables French students of two or more years to meet together and gain experience in speaking French. The main interest of the club this year has been the sponsoring of a school in Haiti. A food sale and donations from the classes enabled the club to send various necessities to the school. The meetings of the year ranged from musical programs and dramatic skits to a final annual banquet for the members.

Planning French Club meetings occupies much of the officers' time. They are—Front row: Beth Davis, vice president; Lesley Willmott, president; Nancy McIntire, secretary. Back row: Miss Renner, sponsor; Tom Scull, treasurer.

Through the various programs, the club gives its members a picture of the German mode of living. Social customs of the country were made real at the Christmas party by Adolph Meyer and Jim Warren as Krecht Rupret and his helper, Black Peter. Movies and a puppet show brought out other phases of German culture. At some meetings, charades, games, and records were played to give the student the fun side of German.

World Affairs Forum

The World Affairs Forum adopted the United Nations as its area of interest during its second year. Club members spent many hours in and outside of school preparing for an examination on the UN. In March, a number of members participated in the essay examination contest of the American Association for the United Nations. In the late spring, a model Security Council session was planned to which area schools were invited to send delegates.

This year our school had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with three people from foreign lands. Miss Vivian Soloman, from Argentina; Mr. Trindade, from Portugal; and Yilma Tadesse, from Ethiopia, spent several weeks in Glens Falls, staying in students' homes and visiting the school. Pictured after a panel discussion during an assembly are—Front row: Sue Canaday, Vivian Soloman, Mr. Trindade, Yilma Tadesse, and John Bridge. Standing are Kate Birdsall and Joe Zamore.

Pageant Writing Committee

The pageant at graduation is the original work and presentation of the Senior Class. This year the Pageant Writing Committee, under the direction of Mr. Van Der Voort, created our pageant, of which the theme is "New Horizons." Members of the committee shown clockwise around the table are Barbara Epstein, Dick LaPoint, Jean Cotter, Pearl Sellingham, Nancy DeLong, Dave Granger, Alice Schwab, Judy Varney, Nancy Williams, Dick Lennox, Betty Wolfe, Mary Kelligrew, Katherine South, Ben Yanklowitz, Mike Clay, Sharon Wells, Marcia Webster, Mr. Van Der Voort, Barbara Levenson.

It is interesting to imagine what school would be like without teachers. We would not learn much, but we might have more fun. School, however, is not primarily a fun proposition. School is for advancing our knowledge, and since this is so, teachers are necessary, and we owe a great deal to them. It would be worthwhile, therefore, to consider seriously all that the faculty of Glens Falls High School has done for us. Students are not the most grateful people in the world. But let us bely our reputations for a moment, and thank the teachers and administrators of our school who have tried to make us better educated and better people, to prepare us for adult life. Their representation in this book can never begin to indicate all that they have given to us and done for us. They have been our bridge over the falls.

Faculty

Douglass B. Roberts Superintendent of Schools

Members of the Class of 1958 are the first to receive diplomas bearing Dr. Roberts' signature. The fourth superintendent of schools in Glens Falls school history, Dr. Roberts replaced Alexander W. Miller, who retired in 1957. Dr. Roberts received his A.B. and M.A. at Tufts College, and earned his doctorate at Harvard. He came to Glens Falls from Lincoln, Massachusetts, of whose school system he was superintendent also. We hope that his first year in Glens Falls has been a good one, and that the future here will prove even better for him.

Administration and

Approving policy and plans for education in Glens Falls requires long hours of real effort on the part of our Board of Education members. Seated clockwise around the table are Douglass Crockwell, C. Sherman Willmott, John W. Glass, Superintendent Douglass B. Roberts, Board President Francis W. McGinley, Mrs. Alfred E. Van Wirt, Clerk of the Board Robert A. Churchill, Russell M. R. Carson, Fabian O. Ducharme, and A. William Cohn. Absent from the picture is Dr. John W. Canaday.

Principal William H. Brown

No one is more proud of our school, and no one has worked harder to uphold its reputation than has Mr. Brown in the 28 years he has been principal of Glens Falls High School. Besides his administrative ability, which makes him such a good principal, we will remember Mr. Brown for his friendliness and his willingness to help us. We owe him a great deal, much more than we realize, for his efforts to provide for us a good education, and to make better persons of us.

Students

In a school of this size, it is safe to assume that no one student knows every other student whose face appears on these following pages. Neither can one know all the obstacles confronting any one other person. Each one of us has his own life and his own personal obstacles to surmount, as well as those he shares with others in attempting to overcome. The seniors appear first and their pictures are four times as large as those of the underclassmen, because they will not appear in a Red and Black again, except for baseball, tennis, and golf players, track men, and Prom goers. This section holds a contrast between the old and the new. The seniors have reached the end of this particular trail. They are being put out, not to pasture, but against the harder world of college or employment. The juniors have gone two-thirds of the way; they are straining at the bit and are preparing for that glorious last sprint called the senior year. The sophomores, only a year gone from the cottage called the junior high school, have gotten used to the castle on Quade Street; they are warmed up from the first lap of their three circuit journey, and are ready for the faster middle lap. They await the yearbook which will picture each of them four times larger than he is pictured here.

Let us hope that the friendships started in high school will continue long after we have left it.

Senior Class History

"Let us rejoice while we are young!" So urged the Roman students of some two thousand years ago; so have the members of the Class of 1958. Since our entrance into Senior High 'way back in September, 1955, we have availed ourselves of every opportunity for learning and for fun.

Our first duty as sophomores was to place our representatives in Student Council. From our class came the secretary and the treasurer for both semesters—Sue Robertson and Rudy St. Pierre (first semester) and Linda Beals and George Goetz (second semester). We gave Miss Mable Tom Scull, Lesley Willmott, Nancy McIntire, and Bud Streeter as class officers.

"The Sand and the Sea" represented our first attempt at decorating our Gargantuan gymnasium. Under the able direction of Mary Kelligrew and Bill Dunn, our Sophomore Hop was a wonderful success. Our Sophomore Dramatics Club staged Conrad Seiler's "How To Propose," a farce which delighted everyone at Drama Night. Sports found our boys bolstering the varsity and junior varsity squads while sophomore homeroom 101 copped the boys' intramural trophy. Our girls added their pep to the junior varsity cheerleaders. Looking back, we consider our sophomore year a good beginning to our three years at Glens Falls High School.

Our junior year, busier than the previous year, kept Miss Broadbent and the class officers—Jeanne Lemery, Allan Wilsey, Evelyn Nobert, and Chris Prescott—moving from September to June. October saw us choosing our class rings—those cherished keepsakes that reminded us that June 24, 1958, was drawing near. Junior boys were now the stars of the athletic teams. Tony Gorry and Tom Scull were three-letter men, while those promising sophomores of a year ago were making their presence felt on the track and the cross-country squads.

The spring Honor Society induction saw seven of our juniors taken into this exclusive organization, the seven being Pat Benedict, Sue Canaday, Tony Gorry, Dick LaPoint, Nancy McIntire, Joy McMore, and Chris Prescott. With spring came the junior awards. Sue Robertson represented us at Empire Girls' State; Tom Scull, at Boys' State. Dick LaPoint was our delegate to the United Nations. Tony Gorry won the Dartmouth Book Club Award.

Finally, our big event—the Junior Prom—came in May, under the direction of Mary Kelligrew and Dick LaPoint. "Carrousel" will live in our hearts forever. Our pretty queen Barbara Scott and her attractive court are among our fondest memories.

As finals approached, we as juniors became aware of something greater and better than we had ever experienced. When we bade good-by to the Class of 1957 at graduation, we knew what this peculiar feeling was—we were SENIORS!

The biggest, the best, the greatest, the absolute peak of our high school was our senior year. Busy with a myriad of activities in making our senior year a success and in preparing for after high school, we found that the year slipped by before we realized it. To coordinate this year's activities, we assigned Dick LaPoint, Jeanne Lemery, Ellen Kenney, and Charlie Maurer to Miss Adriance. The RED AND BLACK was placed under the management of Dave Barber and his hard-working staff.

Athletically, our boys were the mainstays of our teams. Thanks to an undefeated season, our football players received jackets. Three of our seniors—Tony Gorry, Vic Miner, and Tom Scull—shared the Most Valuable Player Award in the City Series with two boys from St. Mary's.

Two seniors—Sue Robertson and Dick LaPoint—were voted to receive the Optimist Club's Good Citizen Award. Our last social affair, the Senior Ball, was very successful. Directed by Nancy Williams and Pete Keene, "Midnight Ball" climaxed a series of decorating successes at Senior High.

The strain of midyears and college boards over, we found ourselves in the homestretch of our secondary school career. College acceptances, RED AND BLACK deadlines, and the Senior Play rehearsals accelerated the nearing of June 24, 1958. Class Day, our last day as students at Glens Falls High School, will never be forgotten. Alumni, we walked off the stage, diploma in hand, a memorable experience ended.

We of the Class of 1958 look with pride and joy upon Glens Falls High School. To Miss Mable, Miss Broadbent, and Miss Adriance, we extend our profoundest appreciation; without their unwavering devotion, our memories would not be and could not be as lasting. As we pass into adulthood, we pledge to remember perpetually our three years at Glens Falls High School. ". . . We'll ever cherish . . . our dear old Glens Falls High."

Junior Class History

Where's room 135? When do we eat? Where's the auditorium? These were questions which entered our minds as we walked up the steps to Senior High on our first day at school in the fall of 1956. These questions were soon answered as we became acquainted with the school and our fellow students during our sophomore year.

This year, as Juniors, we were much more confident of ourselves and our goals in high school. In September we elected our class officers: president, Bob Salter; vice president, John Carusone; secretary, Janice Dean, and treasurer, Meredith Mock, whom we felt sure would represent our class as never before.

Proudly we watched many of our classmates participating in sports. To the cheerleaders we contributed Laura Tripp, Priscilla Trimbey, and Joanne Spector. In football, we starred Bill Burnell, Bob Salter, Jeff Hallett, Meredith Mock, Ed French, and Steve Chagnon. John Carusone, Tom Clune, Terry Gates, and Lucky Varney represented us ably in basketball.

Of course, there was much excitement when we voted for our class rings, and there was still more when our ring committee, Priscilla Trimbey, Bob Salter, and Joanne Spector, passed them out.

"There's a place we'll always cherish"—these well-known words from our alma mater will always remain with us. At the end of our junior year, we are full of enthusiasm and confidence as we look forward to our senior year when further successes will make our alma mater more meaningful.

Sophomore Class History

Last September, we entered Senior High School with high expectations to begin our high school career. At first, we were bewildered by many different classes and a new building, but we finally became accustomed to the routine.

With Miss Mable as our sponsor, we began our first Sophomore activity, which was our biggest event of the year, the Sophomore Hop on November 2. Committees consisted of Sophomores who participated in choosing an orchestra, making and putting up decorations, getting publicity, and providing refreshments. We chose "Candyland" as our theme; music was by Ray Nelson and his orchestra. When the awaited night finally arrived, we had a great time.

Many members of our class were active in sports. Steve Nathan, Cary Parsons, Dave Palmer, and Dick Derby played varsity football; Dick Derby, varsity basketball. Many of the other boys participated in Jayvee sports.

Kathy Reardon, Daveen Hansen, Debbie Liddle, Karen LaMay, and Christina Howard promoted school spirit by leading students in cheers at the games.

Sophomores were well represented in concert band, marching band, and orchestra. John Whitney, Sandra Phillips, Fay Rivers, Barbara Sears, Stuart Carter, Peggy Lyman, Martha Minster, Charles Rosoff, and Carol Matthews took part in All-State activities.

Drama Night gave us an opportunity to show our dramatic ability. "No, No, A Million Times No" was presented with great enthusiasm and hard work. During the first semester, Susan Keene served as treasurer and Dick Derby as secretary of the Student Council, one of the most important organizations of our school.

Now that our Sophomore Year has been completed, we are looking forward to our Junior Year, and anticipate more responsibilities and fun.

Classrooms

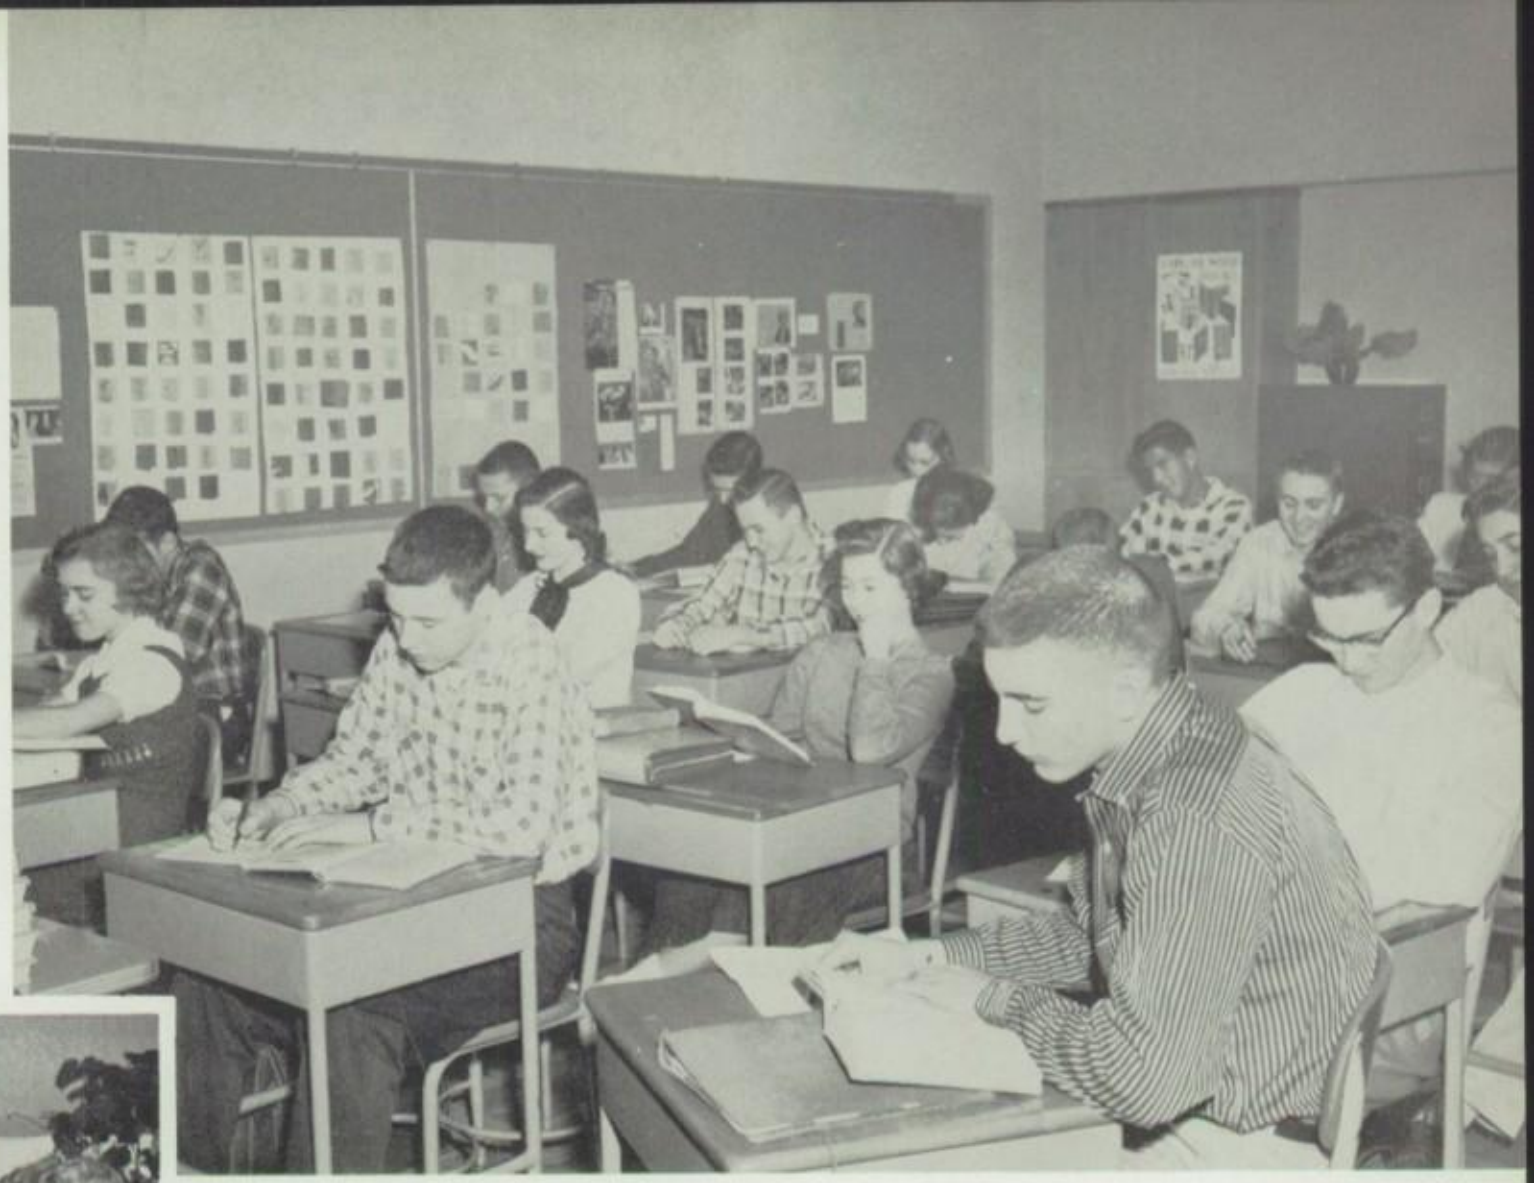
People sometimes forget that our school was built, not primarily as a place to hold plays and basketball games, but to provide classrooms in which to educate the youth of our community. Classrooms are the core of our school. They are very modern and quite pleasant, containing green chalkboards, fluorescent lights, a public address speaker, a telephone, and modern furniture (although, as Miss Mable says, the fourth leg of the desk does not always lie in the same plane as the other three). In these classrooms our teachers have tried to impart their knowledge to us, sometimes without our co-operation.

They have helped us to overcome a myriad of obstacles, from the complexities of Latin grammar to the problems of speaking in public. Classes are not always interesting, but to real students they are usually so. In these unglamorous rooms the obstacles of ignorance are overcome, and children are prepared to become adults. Classrooms are to us what taxes are to all Americans—not always appreciated but always necessary.

Typing for speed and accuracy, secretarial practice girls race along to complete their day's work.

Boys admire their woodshop projects which near completion at the end of the semester.

The French I class goes over homework; the look on Miss



Mrs. Burke's English II class is having no trouble at all with a short usage drill.

Renner's face signifies that all is going well.

Tomorrow's assignment includes the next three chapters in "Up From Slavery." English III students scribble this down before Miss Hayes continues, "The next quarter of your assignment is . . ."

Charlemagne? Who was he? Questions like this run through sophomores' heads in world history class.

"What type of fabric does this swatch represent, Mrs. Ingalsbee?"

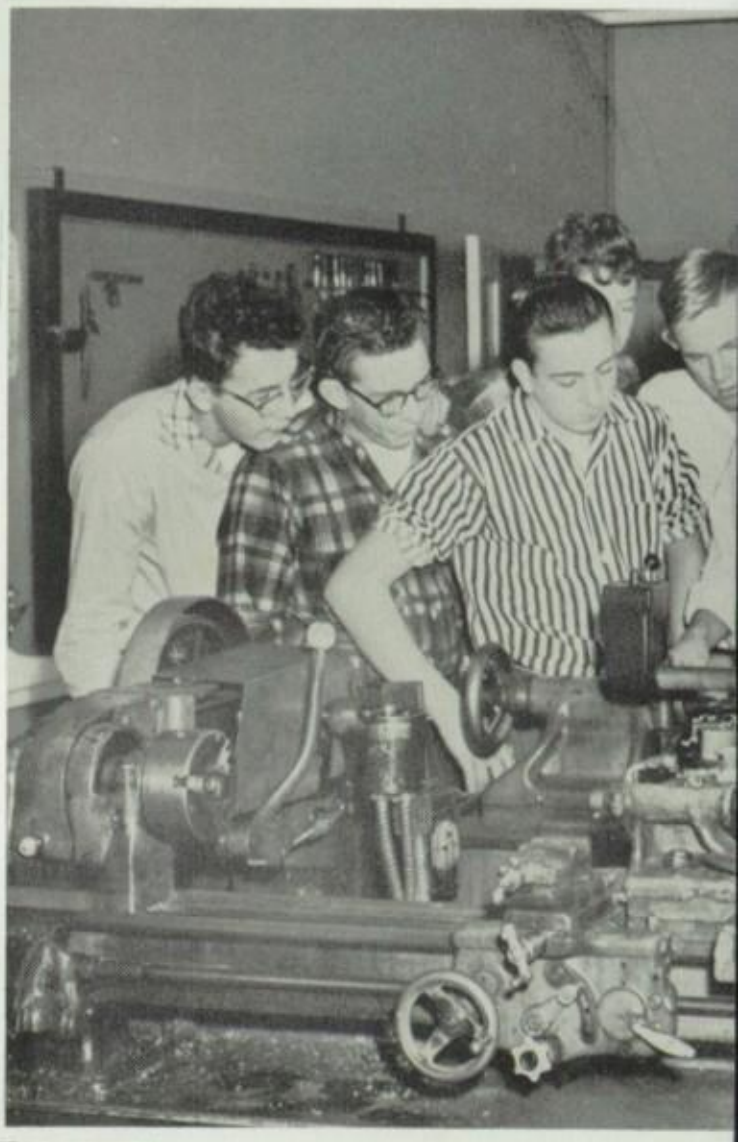
"Quo usque tandem abutere, Catilina, patientia nostra!" Miss Bazinet's Latin II pupils are trying to figure out what Cicero is saying in the opening of one of his orations.

Backs straight, feet on the floor, and eyes off the keys, are three typing rules pupils must follow.

Girls ask this question as they prepare fabric notebooks in clothing class.

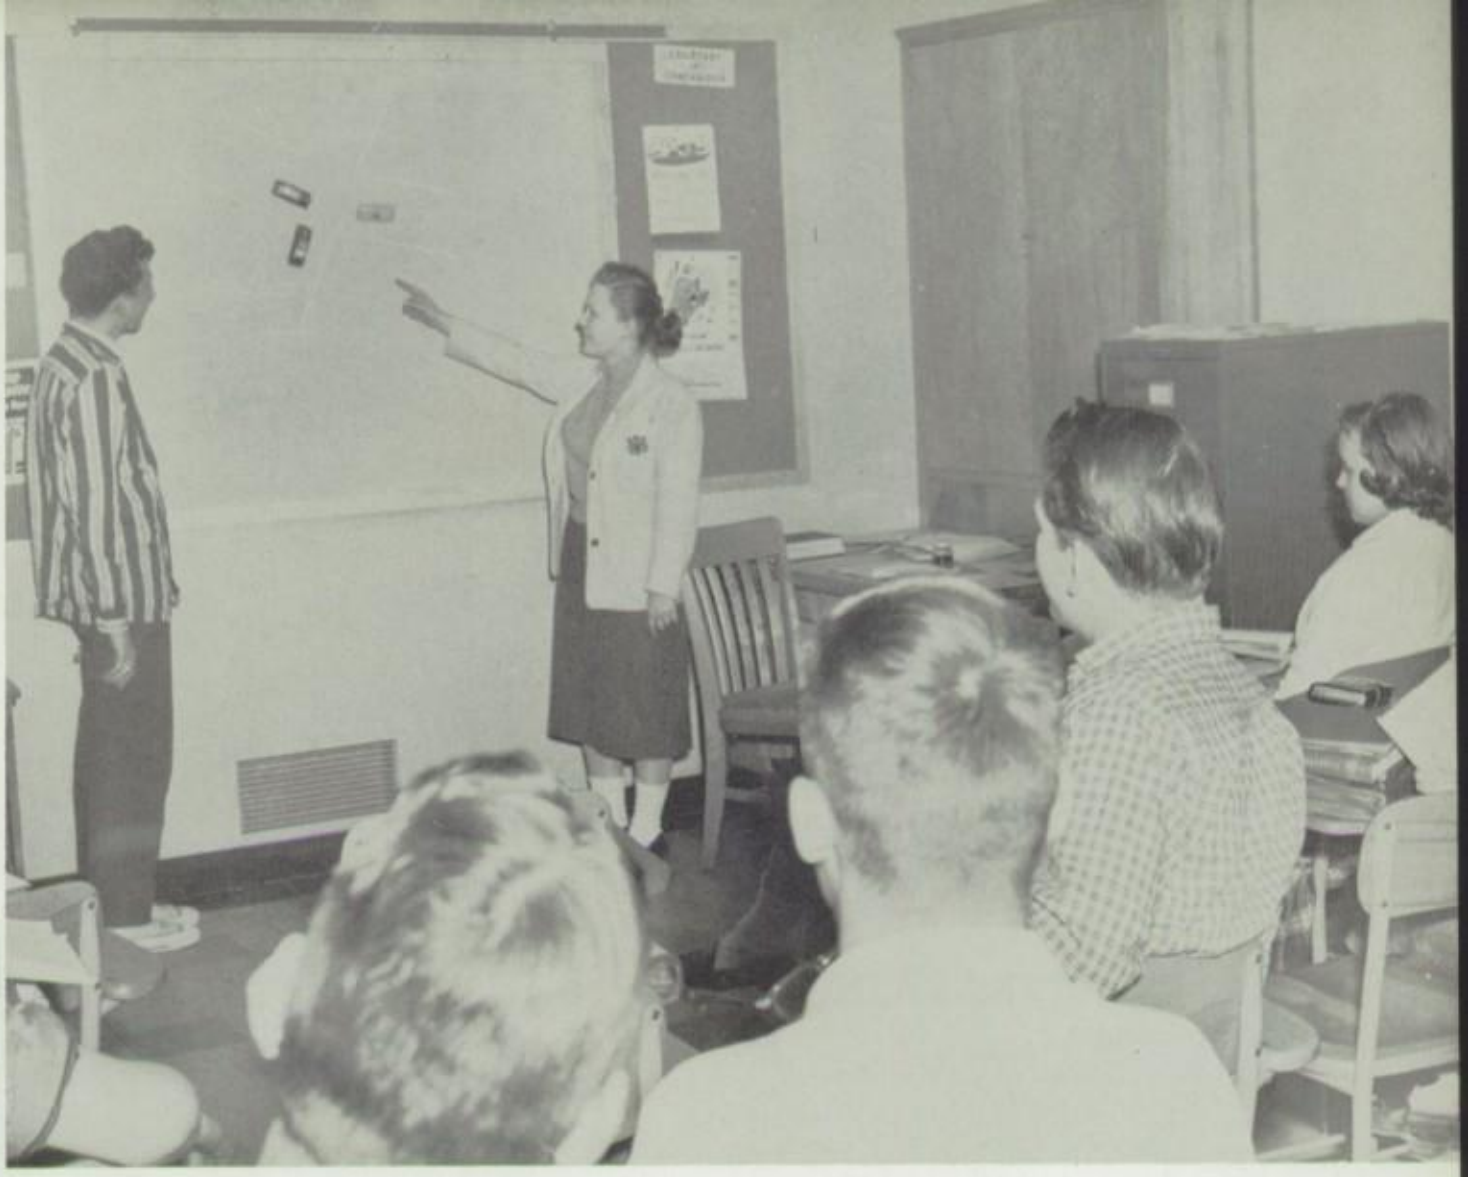
While Mr. Muse explains the complexities of the one tube radio condenser, physics students laboriously copy his diagram.

As Mr. Van Der Voort relates a tale of Abraham Lincoln, his English class listens attentively to catch all the facts and details.

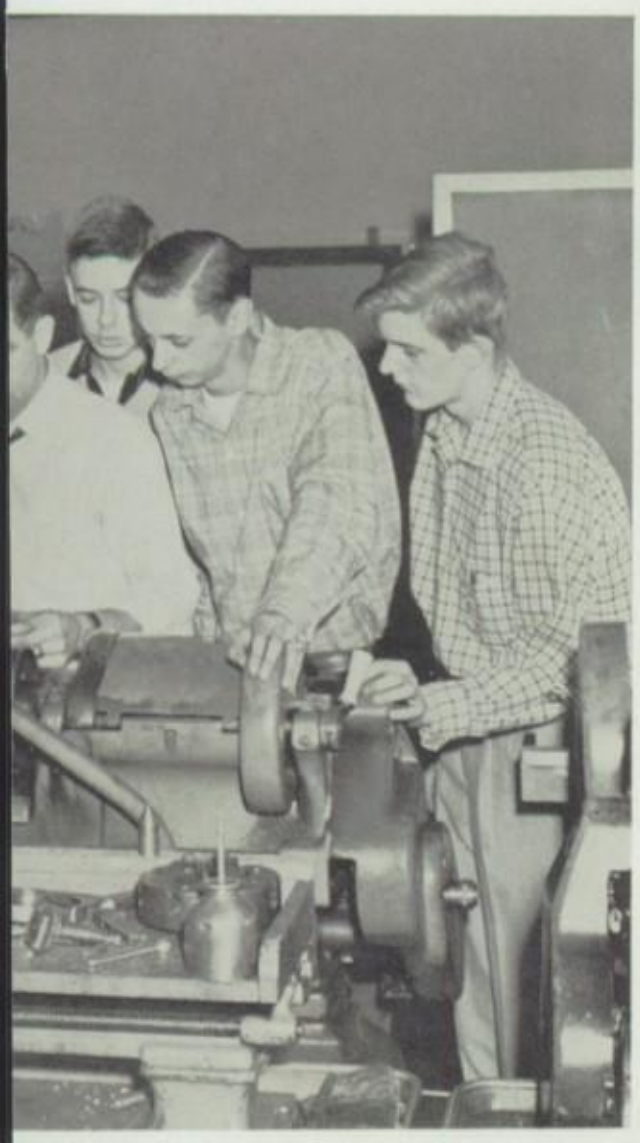


Struggling with "Water Music" by Handel, the orchestra prepares for its concert.

Embryo machinists follow Mr. Robinson's demonstration of



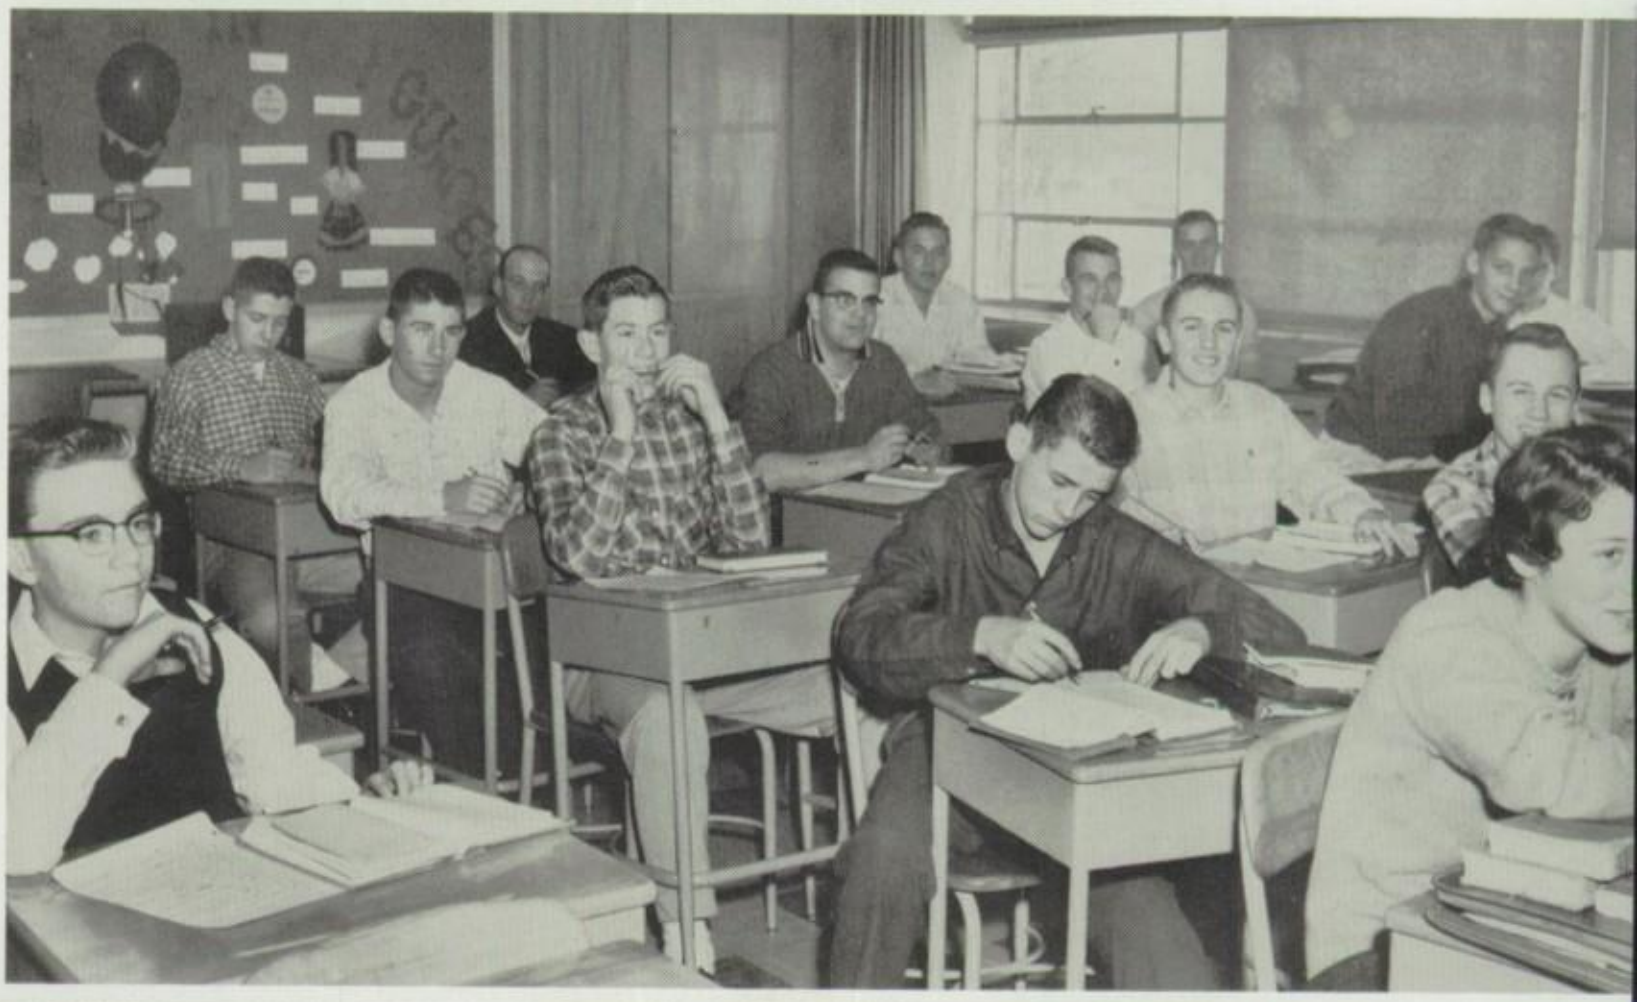
"To crash or not to crash, that is the question" as a driver training class discusses right of way.



threading on a South Bend lathe in machine shop.

Varied expressions break out as students react to a problem in Miss Mable's trig class.

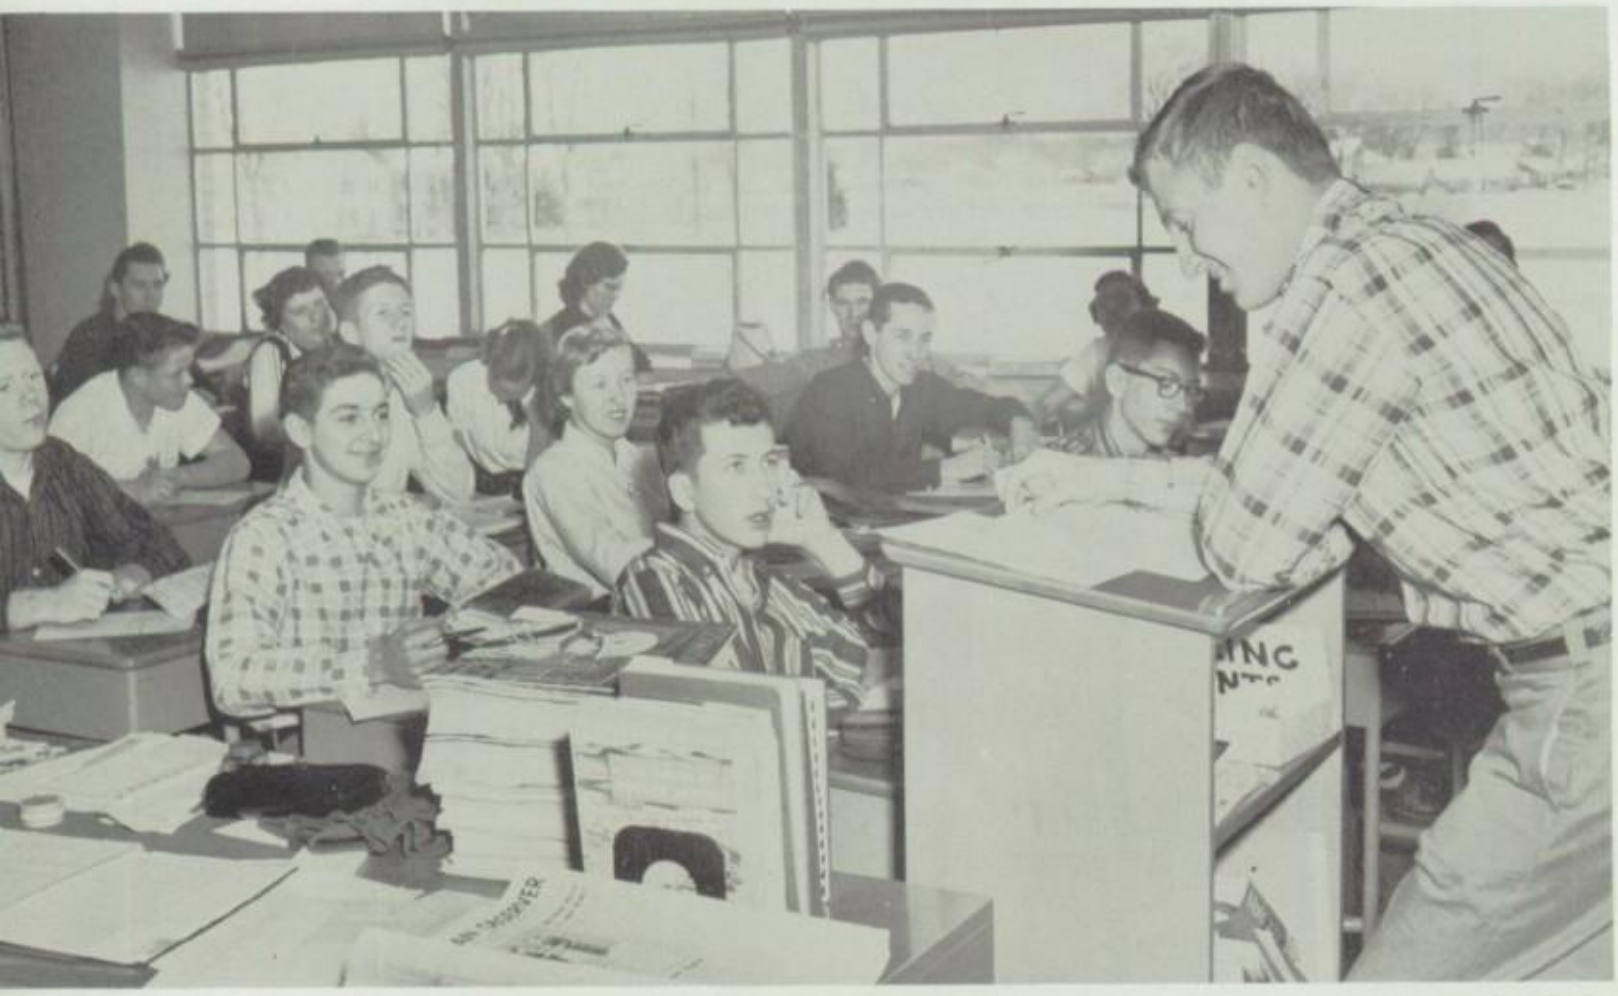
Mr. Reid doesn't seem to share the class's humor during a discussion about income tax in bookkeeping class.



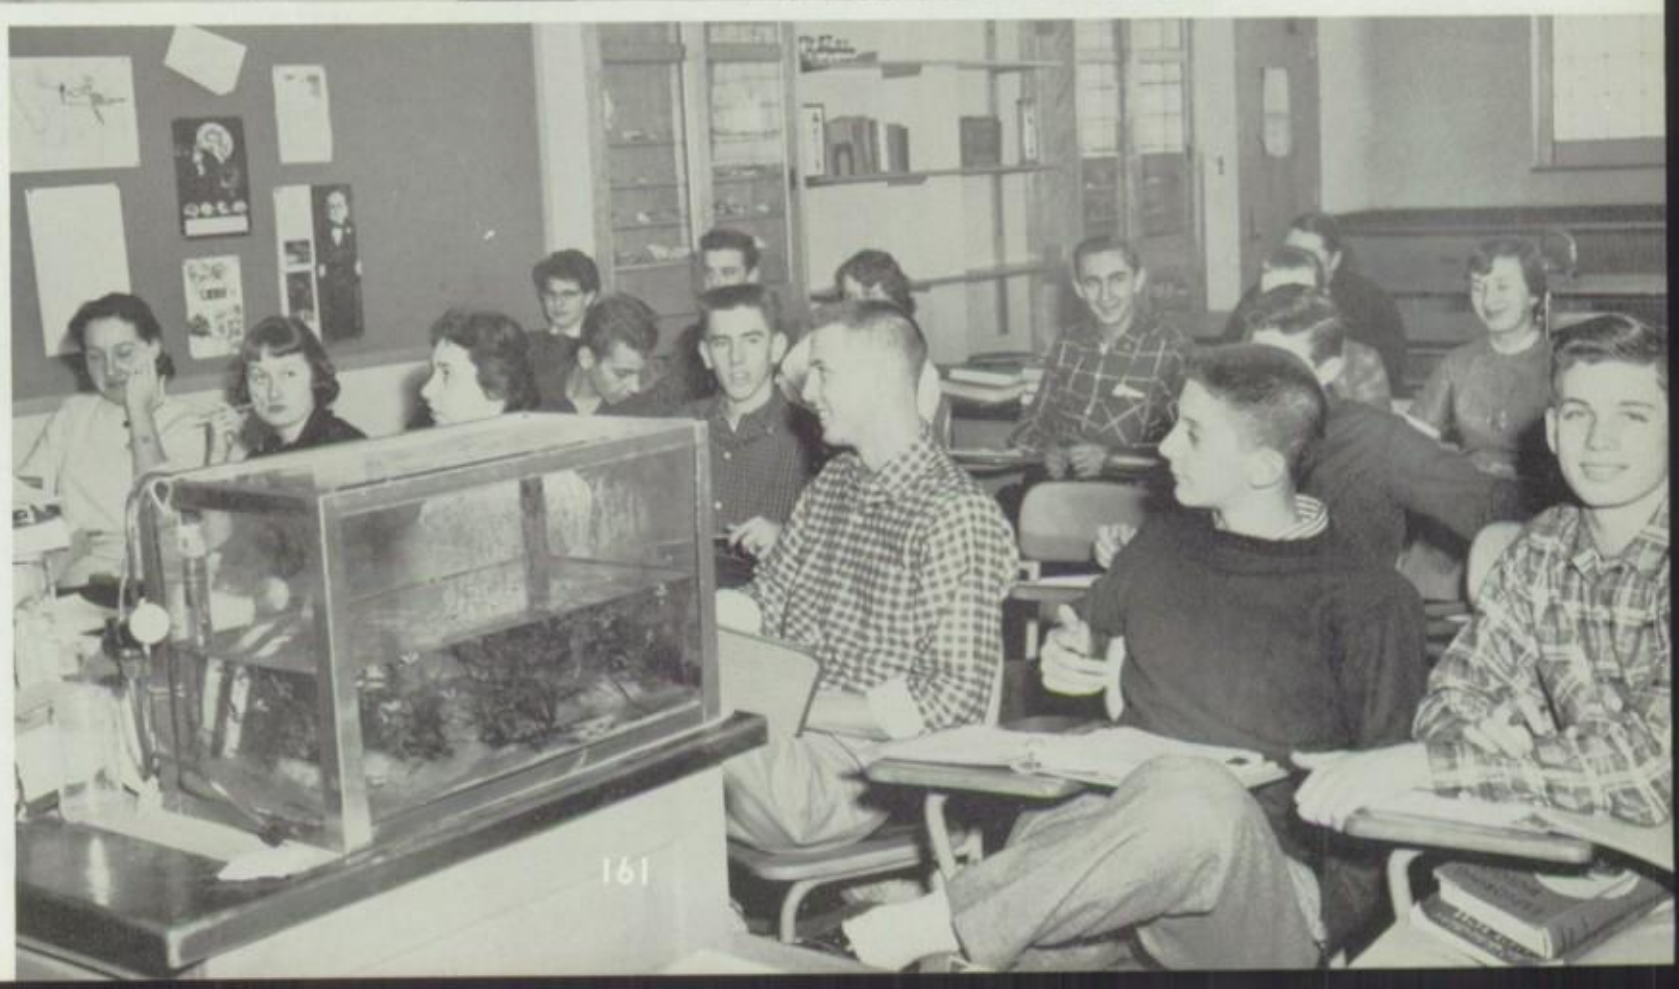
Portugal and Germany get together as our Portugese visitor, Mr. Trindad, sits in on the German I class.

A senior English class is completely engrossed in reading for better comprehension. This, and speed, were important the following Saturday during College Board Aptitudes.

The guidance of small children is the topic of the day in the child care class. Informal discussions such as this one often take place with the girls sitting in a friendly circle.

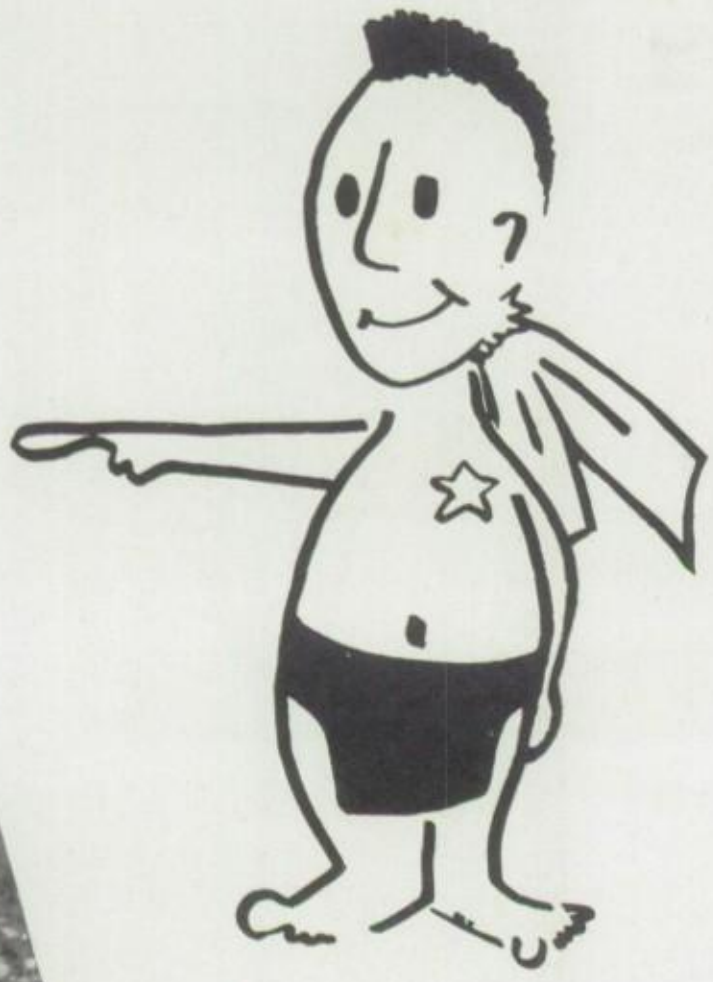


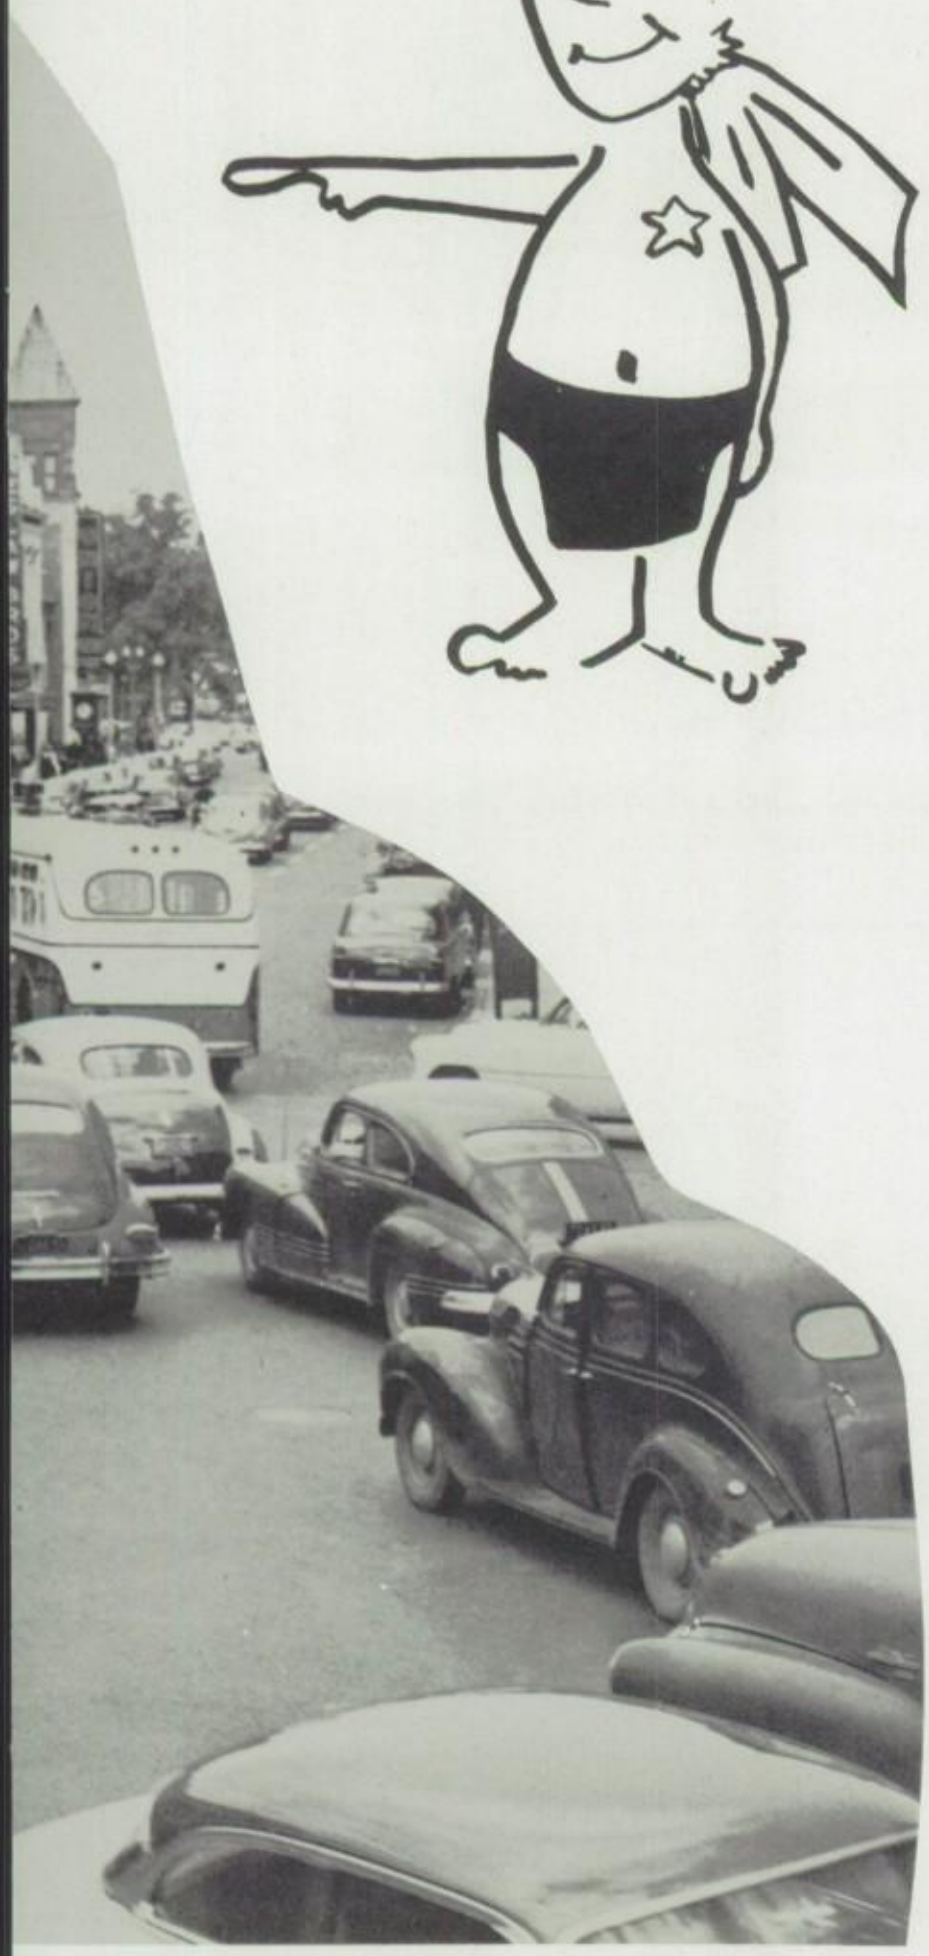
An American history I class listens attentively as Martin Swirsky reports on the United States immigration problem.



Biology students take notes industriously so that they can study for the quiz on mental health.

Advertising





To the adult friends of our school in this community we owe much of our success in overcoming many of our difficulties. This is especially true in regard to the publication of this book, for without the sale of advertisements to the merchants of Glens Falls we would lack sufficient funds to put out the Red and Black. These people may be our parents, our friends, our parents' friends, or total strangers to most of us, but their patronage of our school activities is essential to the success of a number of our endeavors.

These merchants help us because they are interested in the community, of which both we and they are a part. Moreover, they are friendly to our endeavors because our endeavors were once theirs. They often explain their interest in us by saying, "We were kids once ourselves, you know." Their encouragement in our affairs merits our interest in them as merchants, for they are an important part of our home life, as well as our school life.

Going Up?

The Glens Falls Insurance Company extends hearty congratulations to the class of 1958. We are proud that the schools of our neighborhood are contributing so materially to our large staff of employees. In our Glens Falls headquarters and branch offices throughout the country, many recent high school graduates are already "going up" through advancement to positions of greater responsibility. With the hope that many in the class of '58 will consider joining the fine group of graduates already in our employ, we invite inquiries about career opportunities for both young men and young women.
